Altered service area law sought

Three Nameki Township residents who were among a group who filed suit to stop construction of sanitary sewers in Nameki, Chouteau and Venice townships, have been asked by State Representative Jim McPike (D-Alton) to testify before a House Subcommittee on proposed changes to the state's special service area legislation.

McPike is preparing amendments to House Bill 1379, which became law, allowing counties and other entities to create special service areas for special improvements and to tax the residents in those areas for the improvements.

The special service area act was used by Madison County in creating three special service areas in the Quad-City area for new sanitary sewers.

The local share of the sewer construction is to be paid by the sale of bonds and the bond principal and interest payments are to be made by taxing the residents of the special service area.

Areas Two and Three, which included State Park Place, Eagle Park Acres, East Madison and Cloverleaf, were held over for future consideration, due to considerable opposition to the taxation plan.

Area One, which includes Stallings, Ponton Beach, Mitchell, other portions of Nameki and Chouteau townships, and a small portion of Venice Township, was created by the Madison County Board, but a suit was filed to keep the general obligation bonds from being sold.

Although that suit was dismissed in Madison County Circuit Court, an appeal has kept the project from proceeding. No date has been set for that appeal hearing.

Three of those who filed that suit have been asked by McPike to testify on what they feel are unfair portions of the special service area legislation so amendments to that legislation can be proposed, they said.

Asked to testify were George Dyckman, Mrs. Ruth Andrews and Mrs. Helen Hawkins. Mrs. Hawkins has withdrawn from active participation in the suit, although her name remains on the document as a complainant.

Mrs. Hawkins explained at Monday night's Nameki Town

Board of Auditors meeting that she intends to challenge several portions of the special service area legislation, including the provision allowing many County Board members to vote in favor of the localized tax, even though they will not have to pay the tax.

City meets deadline on ambulances

Last minute details to officially establish a city-operated emergency ambulance service in Granite City were resolved by City Council members Tuesday night, enabling the city to meet a midnight deadline for starting the new service.

In a series of actions only a few hours before the emergency service was to begin, the council voted to purchase four Dodge Meducruiser ambulance units at a total cost of $67,640, voted to accept a state and federal grant of $56,000 for initiating the service and enacted an ordinance setting a fixed schedule of fees for ambulance calls.

Fire Chief Don Parente told the aldermen that all arrangements for the service had been completed in preparation for the Tuesday night midnight beginning of emergency ambulance

Record year at GC Steel

"We are encouraged, as we look ahead, in the belief that 1977 can be a good year for National Steel," Chairman George A. Stinson and President Howard McC. Love told shareholders in the corporation's annual report for 1976, released today.

"In 1976, Granite City Steel experienced an all-around good year," they said.

Important capital programs were completed or were under way at year end, the report said. Principal among these were:

1. Expansion of the National Steel Pellet Company from 2,400,000 tons to 5,800,000 tons

Ambulance services outlined by Thomas

With Granite City having started its ambulance service at 12:01 a.m. Wednesday, Quad-City area residents have more ambulances available now than in recent years, Bob Thomas, president of Thomas Ambulance Service, Inc., told the Press-Record this week.

"I just want to assure the people of Granite City, Mitchell, Ponton Beach and Nameki and Chouteau townships that there is adequate ambulance service available to them either by calling Thomas Ambulance or the Granite City ambulance service," Thomas said.

He explained that at midnight Tuesday night, he discontinued 24-hour-per-day emergency ambulance service, but is continuing both emergency and convalescent ambulance service "on a limited basis."

Tentative approval of the selection of 19th Street as the approach to a proposed downtown overpass spanning the railroad tracks into West Granite City has been received from the U.S. Department of Transportation, Mayor Paul Schuler told the Granite City Council Tuesday night.

The announcement was the first official indication of the selection of 19th Street as the approach site of the proposed overpass, although engineers and city officials have considered that location as the most feasible and most likely site of the approach.

As a result of the DOT notice, the city yesterday began a series of test borings to determine the solidity of the soil in a series of 19th Street locations.

Monroe Brewer, city engineer, said that a total of 17 test borings will be made over a period of the next three weeks.

The city engineering department, in a related operation, also initiated a traffic study to determine traffic flow patterns at the intersection of 19th Street, Cleveland Boulevard and Niedringhaus Avenue.

Married couples still are to be penalized—but maybe not as much

Those who were single used to have a tax penalty compared to those who were married. Some of them said it was worth it, but they were only kidding, weren't they?

Then the law was changed, at the urging of Playboy publisher Hugh Hefner and others.

But, as President Jimmy Carter has noted with concern, married couples now are penalized taxwise for tying the nuptial knot, as opposed to the opposite situation, whatever that is.

All of which is prompting the Concert by five choirs

The five choirs of Emmanuel Baptist Church, 1800 Pontoon Road, participated in area and state festivals last week and presented a concert of festival music this week at the church.

The Young Musicians Choir, directed by Mrs. Linda Bridges and accompanied by Miss Paula Fisher, just returned from a trip to Decatur, where it sang under the direction of Mrs. Jo Ann Butler of Ada, Okla.

Mrs. Butler, who is on the faculty of Oklahoma State University, has written many books and songs for children's choirs.

The Sanctuary Choir, College-Career Choir and Youth Choir sang at Calvary Baptist Church in Alton. The men's trio, Duwayne Bridges, Roger Stagner and Bill Patterson, also sang.

First Baptist youth to join in revival

Youth of the First Baptist Church, Mitchell, under the direction of the youth director, Robert Jacobs of Alton, will work together in revival services that will begin Friday, March 25, and continue March 26 and 27.

The services will be held at 7:30 p.m.

The program will include special music, youth group and instruments. Other youth groups also will attend and will present special music during the services.

Personal ministry of visitation, distribution of gospel literature and personal contacts with youth is planned during the services, according to the Rev. W. J. Richardson, pastor.

It also is planned for the youth to conduct a recreation program, serve refreshments and engage in personal christian work, Rev. Richardson said.

An invitation has been extended to all youth to attend the services.

Mariners to meet at Nameoki Church

Al and Billie Bagi, hosts for the Saturday evening Mariners group in the Nameoki Presbyterian Church, announce the securing of a highly recommended program.

Hunter Crigler has gained wide recognition in the St. Louis area schools, service clubs, and churches with his life-size dummy, "Smoking Sam."

Crigler's background and training has provided him with unique insights into some of the nation's most pressing problems of addiction among young people and adults.

Persons wishing to share in the supper which begins at 6:30 p.m. may call the church office at 877-4470 or the Bagis at 676-8851. Those wishing to share in the program only, which begins at 7:15 p.m. are cordially invited, according to the Rev. Don Pierson, pastor.

added the new speaker system was being used for the first time.

Those planning on attending the Spring Fair at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville on Wednesday, March 25, are to provide their own transportation, it was noted. The AARP Band will play at the annual event, Mrs. Hoover added.

Other plans of interest to the members included the announcement of a free entertainment for senior citizens on March 26 at Long Lake Fireman's Hall, a "touch of nature" trip to Little Grassie on May 23, 24, 25, a spring dinner dance in May at the Croatian Home in Madison, the June 14 homecoming to be conducted at the VFW Hall and a picnic in Wilson Park in July.

The next board meeting has been changed to March 30, in lieu of the SUE fair, according to the president.

Study business letter writing

"Writing for Business" was the program topic of Preceptor Beta Gamma Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, which met last week in the home of Mrs. Carl Byrnes, 1258 Klein St., Venice.

The speaker stressed in writing business letters, the use of short sentences and avoidance of big words and stilted phrases are essential.

Mrs. Ralph Haldeman gave a talk on the metric system, conducted a brief study session and then quizzed the chapter members. Each received a metric to English conversion table.

Speakers from Alton, Edwardsville and Collinsville chapters will provide over forums at an "all-chapter" training workshop, set March 26. All members at the St. Louis area are being urged to attend.

Mrs. Jack Tolliver displayed a ballot prepared by the Beta Sigma Phi City Council, Pittsburg, for the proposed new boundaries.

GC in new demand for rail crossing repairs

The condition of railroad crossings on 20th street and Niedringhaus Avenue became a major issue before the Granite City Council again Tuesday night after the aldermen were asked to endorse a program of track and crossing replacement by the Terminal Railroad Association.

Citing previous unsuccessful experiences in attempting to obtain repair of crossings on 20th, Niedringhaus and 19th Street, several aldermen insisted the railroads "do something now" instead of going along with a program that they said "may take years."

Their response was to a request by City Engineer Monroe Brewer in which he asked the council members to "endorse" a program by the TRA to replace the tracks and crossings at 20th Street and Niedringhaus Avenue in a program in which the railroads are attempting to procure federal funds.

Brewer said that he had been notified by J. R. Bowman, chief engineer of the Terminal Railroad Association, that the railroads have applied for federal funds which will be used to replace the tracks at those crossings and to change the crossing gate system from its present manual control to automatic control.

He said Bowman had asked that the city indicate its endorsement of such a plan to assist in obtaining approval of the grant request.

"Tell him (Bowman) that we want some improvements now," Steve Basarich, alderman of Ward Five, replied.

"Those crossings are in horrible condition. You could lose a whole car in some of the holes," Alderman Gerald Parmlay of the Sixth Ward asked why repair of 19th Street was not included.

Brewer said that 19th Street "is likely to be overpassed by the proposed downtown overpass" and it was not included in the present plans.

He added: "I believe the railroads are serious this time, and I think we should go along with this plan." City officials for many years have criticized railroads using the crossings into West Granite City because of conditions which the aldermen said are so bad that cars easily may be damaged.

7th Ward
to speak

The four candidates for alderman of the Seventh Ward in Granite City have been invited to a public meeting at 7 p.m. today in the Nameoki Recreation Center, Franklin and Amos avenues.

After opening statements, the candidates will answer questions from the audience. Paul Bowler, George Gordon, Tom Baker and Tom Skubish are competing for the City Council seat being vacated by Alderman Ronald Coleman, who is running for city treasurer.

Alderman Clyde Boyd of the Third Ward commented that "I agree with Alderman Basarich. I think something should be done immediately. Those crossings are in terrible shape and if they wait for a federal grant it could take as long as two years."

Council members agreed that Brewer should notify the TRA that the city would go along with the proposed improvements, but that some form of immediate improvement be made pending the replacement project.

Legislative conference

Governor James R. Thompson and newly-appointed cabinet officers, House and Senate leaders and chairmen of key legislative committees will discuss major state issues at an Illinois State Chamber of Commerce legislative conference Wednesday and Thursday, March 23 and 24, in Springfield.

More than 400 business men and women and local-level Chamber of Commerce representatives from throughout the state are expected to attend the outlook sessions at the Holiday Inn East.

The officials will examine state taxes and spending, economic development, labor, energy and transportation.

Operation Clean Sweep Saturday

A community-wide clean up program in the Lincoln Place area will start early Saturday morning.

"Operation Clean Sweep" will be carried out throughout the neighborhood for the fourth year under the direction of Jake "Hagop" Varadian, precinct committeeman.

At Tuesday night's meeting of the City Council, the aldermen approved the use of city-owned trucks and some pieces of heavy equipment for the clean up project.

Between now and Saturday's collection day, residents of Lincoln Place are being reminded to get ready by clearing out their basements and attics of unwanted items. The items should be deposited in the alley at the rear of homes in advance of Saturday morning, Varadian said.

"Regardless of size, our volunteer workers will be there bright and early to haul away your discarded items and help to bring a fresh, new look of spring into the neighborhood," the project chairman said. The trash collection service is provided to residents without charge.

Participating residents, however, are invited to donate 50 cents to help defray the cost of furnishing refreshments at mid-day to volunteers working in the program, Varadian explained.

"We hope everyone will cooperate by getting their unwanted items out in the alley very early Saturday so we can have as successful a clean up day as we've had for the past three years," Varadian said.

'To Life' performance at senior citizens' fair

Free Street Too, a drama company of older Americans, aged 65 to 80, will be the featured presentation during the 1977 spring Senior Citizen Fair at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville on Wednesday, March 23.

The group will perform "To Life," a dramatized oral history derived from the actual life experiences of those who perform it.

This is the ninth semi-annual Senior Citizen Fair to be held at the university, according to Paul Rossi, fair chairman.

He said the fair, sponsored by the Community Involvement Project (CIP) in conjunction with the SIUE Office of Student Activities and Student Affairs, is free of charge and open to the public from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the University Center.

Free Street Too is a theater company whose actors are hired through the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA). It was formed more than two years ago by Patrick Henry, artistic director of Free Street Theater.

He put together drama workshops at centers for senior citizens and these grew into acting and writing classes for older actors at the Loop College in Chicago.

Through a grant from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, the acting company was formed to present an oral history of the United States enacted by those who lived it.

The present company came together from a variety of non-theatrical backgrounds. David Bush was a college professor, Dorothy Rawson a piano accompanist, Etorina Hunt a librarian and Anne Binyon a teacher and "troubadour."

The younger Free Street Theater performers taped the personal reminiscences of the older actors in Free Street Too. These were gradually shaped into the current presentation, "To Life."

Songs and skits grew out of the daily conversations and rehearsals.

In addition to HEW, grants from ACTION, the Robert McCormick Charitable Trust, McDonald Corporation and Mobil Foundation enabled Free Street Too to put together its show and to give a few initial performances.

A documentary, "Colors of Gray," on the growth of the unique show was presented on CBS. It will be shown several times during the day of the fair at SIUE.

Along with the morning presentation by Free Street Too, participants in the Senior Citizen Fair will be given a coffee and tea reception in Golden Lounge at 9 a.m., with entertainment by the Old Guys Jazz Band. At 10 a.m. in Meridian Ballroom, SIUE President Kenneth A. Shaw will welcome the fair-goers.

Following the presentation of "To Life," Mrs. Ann Binyon of the Chicago Gray Panthers will make a presentation on the Gray Panther Organization.

A special luncheon will be served for $2 in the Indian Rooms on the ground floor of the University Center from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Guests may also eat in the University Club Restaurant on the second floor or in the cafeteria on the ground floor.

During the afternoon, fair-goers can browse through information booths on local services and displays of arts and crafts or can listen to kitchen bands from local senior citizen groups.

Free hearing, vision and blood pressure checks will be given during the afternoon, along with lectures on varied topics of interest.

For the more active fair-goers, bowling, billiards and table tennis facilities are available in the recreation rooms on the ground floor of the center.

More information on the fair may be obtained by Quad-Cityans by contacting the CIP office at 692-2666.

GCHS North and Edwardsville this week defeated all opposing teams and will face each other at 7:30 tonight in the championship game of girls' basketball regional competition in the Granite City Memorial Gymnasium.

The North-hosted tourney is one of 56 statewide regional cage tourneys being held this week as part of the first-ever Illinois High School Association girls' state tournament series. The competition will conclude with state finals at Illinois State University at Normal April 1 and 2.

Tonight's victor here will advance into sectional play at Belleville Althoff.

East St. Louis Senior High and Roxana opened the regional here Monday with East St. Louis winning 35-29, followed by North's Steelerettes edging Cahokia 48-46.

North topped Cahokia in field goals, 20-19, and each team tossed in eight free throws. North committed the most fouls, 25-19.

Strahl heads Intercollegiate Association

Dr. John M. Strahl, director of athletics and chairman of the Department of Physical Education at Greenville College, became the 38th president of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics during the weekend. He was elected to the post during the annual business meeting of NAIA, held in Kansas City.

NAIA is an organization of 510 colleges and universities from all 50 states and Canada. It was founded in 1940 in an effort to develop and perpetuate intercollegiate athletics and is now the second largest collegiate sports organization in the U.S. Membership consists of more than 3,000 coaches, athletic directors and faculty athletic personnel.

The Greenville College Board of Trustees has granted Dr. Strahl a sabbatical leave during his one-year term as president. While maintaining his office at Greenville College, where he will assist with alumni assignments, he also will work out of the national NAIA headquarters in Kansas City. Strahl is the first to have served in the three highest offices of the organization—president of the NAIA Coaches Association, 1963-1965; president of NAIA district chairmen, 1965; and president of the organization, 1977-78. He was elected to the executive committee in 1969 and continued in that capacity until assuming the presidency.

WARM WELCOME to the returning state basketball champions. Madison High School athletes are shown starting to descend into a crowd of well-wishers from the bus that brought the players home this week after their success in the state Class A tournament at Champaign. Sheriff's deputies and state police were part of the welcoming group at Route 203-Bend Road, where a parade through Madison originated. The team was saluted at a standing-room-only gathering that followed in the MHS gymnasium. (Press-Record Photo)

ENTHUSIASTIC CROWD estimated at 4,800 persons jammed Lantz Gymnasium at Eastern Illinois University, Charleston, last week to cheer

was completed and substantial additions were made to the corporation's coal reserves in 1976. "These moves buttress National's generally excellent picture in the steel industry for ownership of its raw materials sources," Stinson said.

2. The start of production of oil country goods at the new National Pipe and Tube Company plant in Texas—a new product diversification for the corporation.

3. Expansion and upgrading of National Steel Service Center plants which considerably increased that subsidiary's shipping capability and efficiency.

4. The successful start-up of a new facility for production of Unalake, a "significant new one-side galvanized product for the auto industry."

The world's widest slab particularly at the hot mill at Great Lakes.

Citing an improved outlook for 1977, Stinson said, "Orders for our products have been strong, entering the new year, and are expected to continue at good levels."

"However, severe weather and gas curtailments hampered our ability to produce and ship to customers in January and February."

"In addition, the use of expensive alternate fuels and methods of transportation have combined to severely impact our first quarter performance. With these problems now behind us, we expect that the balance of 1977 will be a good year for National Steel."

The board of directors is proposing an amendment to the certificate of incorporation of the corporation, which will be detailed in a proxy statement to be mailed to stockholders and is noted in the annual report.

The amendment, subject to approval by the stockholders, proposes to increase the number of authorized shares of common stock from 25 million to 30 million shares and, in addition, to authorize two million shares of a new class of preferred stock.

The annual report points out that "on Feb. 24, 1977, a realignment of executive assignments was announced to provide our key people with a broader range of management opportunities."

"This will strengthen our organization and place National Steel in a better position to manage the growth which we foresee in the years ahead."

"John G. Redine was named president, Weirton steel Division; Robert D. McBride, president, Great Lakes Steel Division; James V. Slack, president, Granite City Steel Division; and G. Watts Humphrey Jr., president, Midwest Steel Division."

"George D. Sisson, formerly president of Weirton, was named vice president-personnel and employee relations for National Steel.

"William J. Rust joined the company on Jan. 1, 1977, as vice president-accounting and controller."

"He has had wide experience in financial and accounting matters with leading firms over a period of 20 years and will add strength to the staff responsible for these matters."

"A realignment of responsibilities in commercial and sales matters has been effected under the direction of William F. Ewart, vice president-commercial."

"Roger Wilson has been appointed vice president-marketing to direct a program for improved profitability and for increased participation in growth markets."

"John A. Leschen was named vice president-sales, Western regional and national accounts."

The report continues, "The American steel industry and National Steel face difficult problems as we survey the road ahead.

"Many advantages favor National Steel, including its large raw materials position, its generally excellent facilities and technology, and prospects for food demand for its products."

"However, we must continue to cope with mounting inflationary costs, the possible resurgence of the level of steel imports, and the stringent requirements and additional costs imposed on us by environmental regulations with no return on major investments in pollution control equipment."

"Despite a generally good environmental record achieved through substantial additions to capital costs, National Steel must spend a major part of its capital budget in 1977 to meet evermore demanding requirements—and must add to its production costs sizeable amounts to operate new environmental equipment."

"While we continue to support active laws in the past, the nation's broad environmental objectives, we believe that a more rational approach is needed in setting the time frame within which total objectives can be achieved."

"Problems are not new to the company. Indeed, it is management's job to solve them in the future as we have in the past."

"We rely on the dedication and support of all the talented men and women in the company in dealing with these difficulties, given in the same full measure in the future as it has been in the past year."

Regarding the Granite City Steel Division, the report says, "In 1976, Granite City experienced an all-around good year."

"Particularly in the primary end of its mill, Granite City Steel realized the benefits of the investment that has been made in recent years."

"It had a record year in both blast furnace and raw steel production."

"D blast furnace production averaged 300 tons per day greater than the previous record."

"One of Granite City Steel's strongest markets was in building products, primarily for the agricultural market."

"Is Strongburn and pre-painted Strongburn products did very well in a strong and growing market."

"The material is a full-hard galvanized steel developed and patented at Granite City."

"Formed and pre-painted, these are sold through a distributor-builder network for applications mainly in farm buildings."

"However, contributing to the strong growth in this market are some increasingly sophisticated applications in building designs not wholly limited to the farm market."

"In 1977, Granite City Steel hopes to expand its marketing of these products in the southeastern part of the nation."

"In another product area of increasing importance, Granite City invested time and money, in 1976, to adapt its steelmaking practice to the production of the types of steel required by National Pipe & Tube Company for the welded pipe and tubing it supplies to oil and gas producers."

"By year end, this material was being supplied for fabrication into such highly-stressed products as 80,000-pounds per square inch tubing and casing for offshore and deep-hole drilling."

"It required production capabilities much more advanced than those for the vast majority of Granite City's product lines—and certification by oil industry groups as an acceptable source for all oil-country goods applications."

"Granite City Steel's capital program in 1976 included start-up of construction of the fourth slab-heating furnace for its 80-inch continuous wide hot strip mill."

"On completion, this furnace will raise the mill's annual capacity about 30 per cent and enable it to handle slabs shipped to it from both the Great Lakes Steel and Weirton Steel Divisions."

"This capability was a primary consideration both in the acquisition of Granite City Steel in 1971 and in the 1-million-pound "roundout" expansion program now almost completed at all National Steel Divisions."

News notes

Transportation Secretary Brock Adams said Wednesday that the federal government will rule by March 21 on his predecessor's approval of a proposed Columbia-Waterloo metropolitan airport.

Proposed legislation would place State Community College of East St. Louis under full control of its board, but would make the board appointive, with the governor picking members from anywhere in Illinois.

The Missouri Supreme Court on Tuesday overruled that state's death penalty law, and Missouri senators again rejected Equal Rights Amendment ratification.

Funeral services are listed in today's obituary column.

Additional candidates filing in the Granite City District are August E. "Gus" Loeffler Jr., Rural Route Two, who filed as a candidate for rural membership, and Delton R. Groothuis, 2599 Spalding Ave. There were no further changes since Monday in filings in the Venice, Madison and Belleville - Area College districts.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

Board opposes law for county health dept.

The Madison County Board yesterday at Edwardsville went on record opposing proposed state legislation which would require creation of a county health department.

A resolution stating the board's objection to pending legislation on the issue was passed unanimously by the board after being presented by Board Member James Heil of Godfrey.

Heil said opposition was successful in killing such a bill under former Gov. Dan Walker and he hoped similar opposition would keep the present legislation from becoming law.

He said the legislation would require combining the 708 Mental Health Board and the TB Sanatorium board into a county health services board which would have to hire two doctors and several nurses.

A special tax could be levied, but the county residents could call for a referendum on the tax and if the tax was defeated, the county would have to find another way to finance the health agency.

In other business, the board adopted the second reading of a revised order of business and rules document, despite objections that the new rules contained no new ethics requirements.

Heil and Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer of Granite City went on record during the meeting as opposing moves under way by some board members to place Supervisor of Assessments James Barton under the direct supervision of any county board committee.

Restraints seen as stifling steel growth

Current environmental restraints on industrial development may keep the steel industry from constructing new facilities to meet increased steel demand with a consequent loss of up to a half-million potential jobs in this country, it is being contended.

Earl W. Mallick, vice president - public affairs, U.S. Steel Corporation, made the assertion on behalf of the American Iron and Steel Institute in testimony before the House Subcommittee on Health and the Environment.

Referring to regulations governing industrial expansion in environmental non-deterioration and nonattainment areas, Mallick said:

"The issue is not jobs versus the environment, but jobs and the environment. We can have both."

He said it has been estimated the domestic steel industry will need about 30 million tons of increased capacity by the mid-1980s if it is to meet United States demand at that time.

Such an expansion, he said, would create nearly 100,000 new direct steel-making jobs and 400,000 new indirect jobs.

"But," Mallick continued, "we can't make that contribution to decrease unemployment if we cannot get permits to build the facilities, and it is becoming less and less likely that those permits will be forthcoming."

"If the domestic steel industry cannot expand at home to supply the anticipated growth in demand, the alternative is the building of those plants on foreign soil — by foreign companies, if not by American companies."

"Nonattainment areas, where restrictions on industrial growth are most severe, also are those areas where unemployment is greatest."

"More unemployed persons than ever before are enjoying cleaner air than ever before," he said.

Mallick proposed a single national requirement for new

COMBINED ELEMENTARY CHORUS comprised of fifth and sixth graders perform during the "Music In Our Schools" program held in the Granite City High School South auditorium Thursday afternoon. Under the direction of Ken Jones, Maryville School, the chorus sang several arrangements preceded by performances by the South High Stage Band, elementary string instrument students and a ballet demonstration. More than 600 third graders from the public and parochial schools attended the program which introduced them to the areas of music in which they can participate in higher grade levels.

facilities that they incorporate best available pollution control technology.

Beyond that, he recommended that "some mechanism be established to make a go or no-go decision on proposed industrial expansion in nonattainment or non-deterioration areas, based on all relevant considerations — environmental, social, economic, energy, unemployment and others."

Once a "go decision" is made, it should be final and not subject to a change of mind by a control officer or citizen suits, he asserted.

Ideally, Mallick said, such a decision should be made by a representative local group, possibly appointed by the governor of the state.

Mallick also made four other points in his testimony: —He strongly endorsed the proposed creation of a National Commission on Air Quality. In doing so, he reported a need for studying incremental costs and benefits of revising existing state implementation plans in an effort to attain ambient standards. He expressed enthusiasm about the commission's mandate to review existing ambient air standards.

—He backed a proposal that the Environmental Protection Agency administrator review ambient air standards within 18 months, but suggested that a provision be included to require the administrator to promulgate the standards following his review, whether or not he recommends changes, to permit full public participation.

—He endorsed the creation of an independent scientific review committee, although he said AISI would prefer that it be appointed by someone independent of EPA. He suggested that such a committee be expanded to constitute a permanent Environmental Review Board appointed by the President or Congress to review all future major regulatory actions of EPA.

—He supported the need for delayed compliance orders, but said that noncompliance penalties should be reserved for extreme cases — and should not be applied where there has been an honest dispute concerning the possibility of compliance, or to existing compliance orders or consent decrees. He said civil litigation should continue to be handled by the attorney general because this affords an independent judgment on matters going to litigation.

Success sweet to Abe Vigoda

By DON FREEMAN Press-Record
Hollywood Bureau

Fame has come to Abe Vigoda, an actor with the lugubrious look of a basset hound.

Vigoda created the role of Detective Fish on the "Barney Miller" series and now he has moved into the starring role in a spin-off entitled "Fish."

And the sad face that Vigoda wears before the cameras is nowhere in evidence now as he talks about the delights of being an instant celebrity.

"Take money, to start with," Vigoda says. "I went out and bought a 1977 Cadillac with cash. A Coup de Ville. I couldn't ever do that before — pay cash for a new car."

"Character actors, which is what I've always been throughout my career, even on Broadway can't shell out a bundle for new cars."

"But now I can afford to be good to myself and that's what I intend to be."

He fingered the cloth of his sports jacket. "Handmade," he said. "I've always wanted a handmade jacket."

"Since I tend to stoop when I walk, I always needed the work of a tailor, but who could afford it?"

"And there's my mother, who's 80 years old. I got her a beautiful apartment and she's now the belle of Brooklyn, very proud of her successful son — and these are the joys of being successful."

"Look," said Abe Vigoda, "I'll say it. I'm now a national figure."

"People recognize me everywhere, not just the people who knew me from doing Tessio in 'The Godfather,' which was a real triumph because thousands of actors were tested for that film. Even Brando had to take a screen test."

"Playing Fish on 'Barney Miller,' that's what did it for me."

In his new ABC series, Vigoda leaves the police precinct, bowing finally to retirement, and with his wife played by Florence Stanley, assumes the responsibility of raising five "problem" youngsters in a New York group home.

"People wonder who Fish is," Vigoda went on. "Well, what an actor must do is use the experiences in his own life."

"Who is Fish? He is basically a composite of four people. There was a salesman I knew, a man who sold insurance, and he always complained about his health."

"And there's a police officer I used to play handball with who complained about his feet. And a construction worker I know who was always complaining about his wife."

"Fish is those three people — plus me. We never totally escape from ourselves."

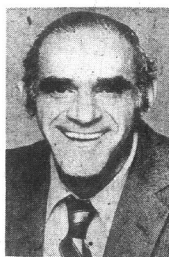

Vigoda unloosed a tentative smile and lifted a cautioning finger.

"But I'm different from Fish, who is not Abe Vigoda. Fish is a pessimist. I am an optimist, full of good cheer."

"I have good feet. Fish has bad feet. Fish looks serious all the time. I have a twinkle."

"One more thing," Vigoda said. "People say I'm younger and better looking in person than Fish, which is true."

"It is strange thing the way it happened, me playing older men," says Abe Vigoda. "The truth is, in real life, I am very dashing and romantic."

Okay permit to use sound truck in GC campaign

A permit to use a truck equipped with two sound units from March 27 to April 5 was granted by the City Council Tuesday night to Steve Konkovitch, 2802 Dogwood Drive.

In a letter to the council, Konkovitch said the sound truck will be used in connection with the mayoralty campaign. The Granite City municipal election will be held April 5.

Konkovitch said the unit would be used between 10 a.m. and dusk. He said recorded tapes would be used to convey messages and music.

Joe Michels has lens transplant

Joe Michels is recuperating from major eye surgery at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis, where he underwent a transplant of a lens Tuesday.

Results of the operation are considered satisfactory so far, Mrs. Michels said Wednesday.

For several decades Mr. Michels was known to most Granite Cityans as "Joe the Tailor." He officially retired on Jan. 1, 1970, and closed his place of business, Joe Michels' Men's Shop at 1822 State St.

Mr. Michels, 74, has continued to work on a part-time basis at home since retiring, his wife reported.

If his condition continues to improve, Mr. Michels may be released from the hospital this weekend, it was learned.

Carl Johnson dies at 49

Carl E. Johnson, 49, of 2204 Illinois Ave., became ill at home and was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was pronounced dead upon arrival at 3:31 a.m. Tuesday.

He was born in Hornech, Iowa, and resided there until moving to this area 27 years ago.

Mr. Johnson was employed as a laborer at Union Starch and Refining Co. from 1952 until the plant closed.

He was a World War II Army Veteran and also served during the Korean conflict.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Hilda (Monroe) Johnson; three brothers, Kenneth Johnson of Sioux City, Iowa, Philip Johnson of Placerville, Calif., and Norman Johnson of Los Angeles, Calif.; one sister, Mrs. Ronald (Ramona) Meyers of West Point, Neb.; and his stepmother, Mrs. Inez Johnson of Grass Valley, Calif.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Area waterfowl hunters rate high among conservationists

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

Seven years ago a group of Granite City, Alton and Wood River duck hunters got together to discuss what could and should be done to aid in waterfowl conservation to assure a continuation of the sport.

Out of that meeting grew the organization of Migratory Waterfowl Hunters, Inc. dedicated to conservation of the waterfowl population and adherence to strict rules and regulations among hunters to avoid depletion of ducks and geese.

"We were out to prove that hunters are not slobs just killing something for the sake of killing," Frank G. Vivod of Granite City, a member of the organization's board of directors, explains.

Today, Vivod said, the organization is rated as one of the most active conservation groups in the nation.

The club ended 1976 with a total of 613 members in an area embracing Madison and St. Clair Counties.

Much of the membership is in Madison County, Vivod said, noting that Granite City now has 55 members in the organization—the second largest membership of any city in Madison County.

"We still are a little-known organization, but we are making great strides from year to year in membership and what we do in the way of conservation," he said.

Migratory Waterfowl Hunters was incorporated in April 1970 and now is considered the largest hunting club in Illinois.

The majority of our membership hunts on public lands. Our club was formed to represent the public lands hunter, the little man that many people seem to have forgotten," Vivod related.

"No officer of our club may hold an elective or appointive state public office for which he is compensated. If a club officer becomes a candidate for public office, his club office is terminated automatically."

One of the organization's principal activities is participation in the conservation program of "Ducks Unlimited," to which the waterfowl hunters have contributed $62,300 during the years the club has been in existence.

Of this amount, $18,000 was given to the Ducks Unlimited program last year.

The group also takes part in the Wild Imp print duck release program in which the waterfowl hunters' organization has released a total of 5,093 mallard ducks in rural areas of Madison and St. Clair Counties.

"Oddly enough," Vivod explained, "a hen duck will return at nesting time to the area in which it was released as a young duck."

The members have built and erected 1,186 nesting boxes and baskets in hunting areas, which is more than can be accounted for in all of some states, he reported.

The organization also opposes what it considers "bad" gun legislation. It maintains a communication system that permits club officers to make a complete mailing to all club members of information pertaining to legislation within two hours.

Investigation of water pollution in prime waterfowl habitats also is carried out by the club, which has committees and members assigned to represent the hunter at various anti-hunting and humane society meetings.

Most of the club's funds are proceeds from a banquet held at least once each year. The $18,000 given to Ducks Unlimited last year was raised in this manner.

In its activities representing the hunter, the club has attendance at Mississippi Flyway Council meetings and arranges meetings with the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, the Illinois Department of Conservation, the U.S. Department of Interior and the Bureau of Fish and Wildlife Service that "results in a better understanding of the hunters' needs."

Club members attend Corps of Engineers management plan meetings for the upper Mississippi, participate in National Hunting and Fishing Day programs and sponsor a participant at a conservation education school at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

They also present lectures on "The Hunters' Role in Conservation" at schools, churches and civic clubs.

Over its seven years of activity, the club has received the President's Award from the National Wildlife Federation, a "letter of recognition" from the governor of Illinois, a "letter of merit" from the Illinois Senate, "best conservation club" from the Illinois Wildlife Federation, the golden mallard award from the Arkansas Wildlife Federation and the "out-standing sportsmen's club" award from the Alton-Wood River Sportsmen's Club.

The waterfowl hunters are seeking new members for the organization. Quad-Cityans seeking more information may call C. E. Becker of Godfrey, president of the organization, at 666-3787, or C. D. Huggins at 466-6918.

Unbeaten Kahoks hope to join Trojans as state cage champs

Collinsville High School's Kahok cagers, with 31-year Coach Vergil Fletcher at the helm, are this region's hope of sharing a second state basketball title this season as the Illinois High School Association boys' Class AA tournament series concludes this weekend at the University of Illinois, Champaign.

Collinsville, state champion in 1961 and 1965, defeated Carbondale's Terriers 64-56 Tuesday night in a super-sectional game at Carbondale to advance against Chicago DeLaSalle (24-6) in tomorrow night's 30 quarterfinal contest at Champaign.

First-round games tomorrow also include Chicago Wendell Phillips (28-1) vs. St. Laurence (28-2) at 12:15 p.m., Barrington (27-3) vs. Peoria Central (26-2) at 1:45 p.m. and Springfield (25-5) vs. New Trier West (23-5) at 7 p.m.

Semifinal contests will be played Saturday at 12:15 p.m. and 1:45 p.m.

The third-place contest is set for 7 p.m. Saturday, followed at 8:30 p.m. by the title clash. Other super-sectional victors were Phillips 77-65 over Westinghouse, Peoria 58-44 over Ottawa, Langhiser 64-47 over Kankakee, Eastridge, St.

Laurence 57-53 over Homewood-Flossmoor, DeLaSalle 83-71 over Chicago Weber, Barrington 58-56 over Benet and New Trier West 68-55 over Chicago Gordon.

Halftime show set for 'Friendly' game

Between the halves entertainment at this year's "Officer Friendly" charity basketball event Tuesday, March 22, at 8 p.m. at the GCHS South gym will feature four groups and approximately 100 live performers from the Granite City High School North band department.

Plans for the halftime extravaganza include the 50-member North High pep band appearing with three groups.

The "Steel City Belles" pom squad will bring several "motion to music" interpretations to view, while a newly-formed "Pom Pom Alumni" group will highlight several "motion to music" routines.

The finale for the entertainment will feature a full-floor, three-squad spectacular in which newly-formed "North Guard Flag and Rifle Squads" will join the Steel City Belles in a special show of routines and marching—set to the music of "A Salute to Young Americans." This will feature music of the early 1970s as performed by the Granite City High School North pep band.

North's band department has provided both pre-game and between-the-halves entertainment for this charity basketball game for the past two years.

This year's production, the efforts of firemen and policemen will be combined for the first time in hosting members of the St. Louis football Cardinals.

Family life programs

High School Principal John Rush received Venice School Board approval last night to use the Hope Clinic staff in presenting a series of family life and sex education programs for Venice High School students, subject to parental permission.

In other business, additional information from a contractor will be needed before a recommendation can be made by the building committee on bids submitted on electrical work in Venice High School, the board was informed.

Members approved participation by the Venice School District in "Business Industry Education Day" Oct. 11.

Requisition totaling $1,464 were approved for the Venice Lincoln Technical Center, mostly concerning purchase of welding equipment.

Authorization was granted by K. Duane Rankin, Venice Lincoln administrator, to submit a special application under a Title 20 services project to fund a referral, testing and student counseling program through June 30.

If the proposal is approved, $10,674 will be made available to finance the program, board members were advised.

Players set auditions

Tryouts for the East Bank Players' Next production, "Murder Takes the Stage," will be held from 1 to 3 p.m. Saturday and from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday in the 300 Room at Brunswick Tri-Mor Bowl.

Auditions also are set for the same hours on Saturday and Sunday, March 26 and 27.

Gene Cassy, director of the three-act mystery story, said parts are available for six men and seven women.

Any person interested in acting is invited to audition, he said. Persons unable to attend a scheduled tryout who wish to audition are invited to call 875-31 to arrange a special time, Cassy reported.

The East Bank Players is Granite City's community not-for-profit theater group. Its primary purpose is to keep up the tradition of live theater, Cassy explained.

Plant onions, garlic early

By CHRIS DOLL
Area Gardening Advisor

Have you wondered why your onions stayed small or grew poorly? Or why garlic plants failed to produce satisfactorily? It's because they are cool-season crops.

Both crops must be planted early for best results. Cool temperatures and the long days of May and June are the secret for the success from early planting.

Bulbing or bulb growth of onions and garlic are affected by light. Too much light, such as we have in the long days of late June and July, prevents or stops bulbing, and small crops result.

Warm to hot soil also reduces or stops bulbing. If soil temperatures remain higher than 68 degrees F. for any length of time, late planted stock may never bulb.

However, early planting will not guarantee large bulbs.

Large onions result from combining early planting of a good variety — such as Sweet Spanish or Yellow Globe — planted in a loose fertile soil, with plants spaced about three to four inches apart, and followed up care through the growing season.

This means applying about three pounds of a garden fertilizer for each 100 square feet, keeping weeds under control, and providing plenty of water.

And don't cover the expanding bulb with soil or you'll stunt its growth.

By using the above suggestions, you should be able to harvest the best crop of bulbs ever, 115 days from now.

Mulches applied to strawberry plantings last fall should be removed before the new plant growth turns white or yellow under mulch.

Just when this should be left depend upon the weather, but it's time to lift the mulch and check the plants every three to five days for these symptoms.

When it's time, don't remove all of the mulch. Leave some of it over the plants for ground cover through harvest and rake the excess into the walkways.

This will help keep the fruits clean, and you'll get weed control in this area plus a mud-free walk when it rains. The mulch will also be available for re-covering the plants in case of frost during bloom.

If no mulch was applied last fall, apply a light covering of mulch now.

As soon as the mulch is pulled back, it's time for a spring herbicide treatment for weed control. Use DCPA (dichloral) broadcast over the entire planting.

Follow rate suggestions on the package for strawberries. Time is of essence, because DCPA must be applied before the weeds come up and it won't be long till blossoming starts.

Weeds that are up at the time of application will not be killed, and should be hoed out as soon as possible.

Gymnastic competition at Washington School

Karen Diak, Monica Fanning, Eric Marcus, Melissa Mooney and David Williams took first place honors in a gymnastics competition at Washington School.

During the past five weeks all Washington students have been learning new skills on the gymnastics equipment. In the last two weeks the fifth- and sixth-grade students have been creating and practicing routines on the balance beam, parallel bars, and side horse. A routine is a combination of the individual skills performed one after another.

Each student who created a routine demonstrated it before the members of his physical education class. Every member of the class gave a score of three (excellent), two (good), and one (poor). Those students receiving the highest scores then competed with other class winners during an assembly before the student body, teachers, and parents.

Winners were: Girls' side horse — Monica Fanning (1st), Susan Sechrest (2nd), Sarah Etherton (3rd), and Becky Lloyd (4th); boy's side horse — David Williams (1st), David Noel (2nd), Darrell Royer (3rd), Robert Ficker (4th), Jeff Hoes (5th) and Patrick Whitehead (6th); girls' parallel bars — Melissa Mooney (1st), Michelle McIntyre (2nd), Glenda Krug (3rd), Nancy Vincent (4th), Sherry Hancock (5th), and Tina Vasquez (6th); boy's parallel bars — Eric Marcus (1st), Larry Cornett (2nd), David Murphy (3rd), and Kenny Phillips (4th); girls' balance beam — Karen Diak (1st) and Lisa Lulley (2nd). There were no competitors in the boy's balance beam category.

Judges for the competition, Mrs. Suzanne Lentz, first-grade teacher, Mrs. Rebecca Miller, fourth-grade teacher, and Dean Pittmann, learning center teacher, rated each student on a scale of one (poor) to ten (superior).

The judges rated each routine based on the number of skills used, how difficult each skill appeared, how well each skill was performed, and how smoothly the performer moved from one skill to the next.

Miss Nancy Marti, physical education teacher, was in charge of the gymnastics instruction and competition.

Deak was released after posting $25 bond.

Two-way traffic on McKinley Bridge

By WALTER STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer

The east approach of the McKinley bridge has been reduced to two-way traffic for major repairs and resurfacing. The Venice City Council was told Tuesday night by Thomas Fields, bridge manager. Fields reported that barricades and signs have been erected to direct two-way traffic.

A sudden change of temperature caused a portion of the east approach to buckle at 3 p.m. Monday, Fields said. Engineers have been expecting the buckling to occur for some time, he added.

Last month the Venice City council advertised for bids calling for filling and repaving of the east approach.

The cost of the repair work will be at least $500,000, it was estimated by Alderman Tyrone Echols, chairman of the aldermanic Bridge Committee. Traffic on the bridge will continue to move during the construction period, which will take several months.

At Tuesday night's meeting, it was reported that three sealed bids already have been submitted and another firm has made inquiries.

Public opening of bids will be Monday, April 4, at the bridge office.

Engineers from the firm of Hardesty and Hanover of New York City, engineers for the bridge, will be in Venice to study the bids. Hardesty and Hanover representatives then will make a recommendation on Tuesday, April 5, to the City Council on award of a contract.

The New York firm considers lowest price, meeting specifications and the reputation of the contractor.

The city enacted an ordinance declaring 16 structures, mainly old houses, as dangerous and unsafe. The owners will be given 45 days to either repair or demolish the structures. If they do not, the city will seek authority from the Circuit Court to demolish the houses.

The 16 structures are located at:

1225 Oriole St., single story frame; 1003 Fourth St., 1½ story frame; 1325 Robin St., single story frame; 600 Washington Ave., 1½ story frame; 212 Hampden St., single story frame; 540 Mercedia St., single story frame; 606 Mercedia St., single story frame.

Also 638 Mercedia St., single story frame; 1013 Douglas St., single story frame; 1016 Logan St., single story frame; 1038 Logan St., two story frame; 1115 Logan St., single story frame; 1211 Logan St., single story frame; 1118 Market St., two story frame; 1121 Market St., single story frame; 1123 Market St., single story frame.

The City Council went on record praising the Madison High School Trojans for winning the Illinois Class A state basketball championship and City Attorney Harry Hartman was drafted by the mayor to be passed at the next council meeting praising the Madison High School Trojans.

One alderman noted that 11 of the 12 team members were in the Madison School District, but actually lived within the city limits of Venice.

The council approved a request by the Madison Branch of the National Association of Colored People (NAACP) to hold a parade on Saturday, April 2, in honor of Dr. Martin L. King.

The parade will begin at noon at Line Alley and Market Street and end at the Venice City Hall where a program will be held.

The council discussed an ordinance to stop solicitors from going door-to-door in the city without permission from the chief of police.

Concern was expressed by Council members that followers of the cult leader allegedly are using "high-pressure methods" toward residents and business people in the area.

The Street Department workers have been instructed to watch for and report to police any of the so-called followers should they become active in Venice.

Scout kite derby at Army base Saturday

About 150 Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts are expected to take part in a "kite derby" contest Saturday morning on the grounds of the Granite City Army Installation.

The event is being sponsored by Granite City Jaycees and competition is open to all scouts between the ages of 8 and 17 years.

Bob Burgess, Jaycee project chairman, said the public is invited to observe the derby as spectators.

Registration will start at 9 a.m. Saturday, and the contest will get under way shortly afterward.

Boys will compete in three age groups for trophies and ribbons. The age groups are 8 to 11 years; 11 to 14 years; and 14 to 17.

Kites must be homemade and each must be able to fly in order to compete, Burgess said. Contestants will be judged on such points as construction, appearance and altitude achieved by their entry.

The first place winner at each level will receive a trophy and advance to a state kite flying contest, Burgess advised.

Those placing second and third will receive ribbons. Cub Scouts must be accompanied by a responsible adult and Boy Scouts are required to have a minimum of one adult leader of the troop present, the chairman said.

Further information may be obtained by contacting Burgess at 451-9100 (daytime) or 876-1346 (evening).

Burglary charged

David A. Beasley, 17, of Rural Route Two, Box 776h, was arrested by Granite City Police Tuesday and charged with burglary.

Detectives alleged their investigation into the Feb. 6 burglary at Don's Shell service station, 2701 Pontoon Road, developed information linking Beasley to the crime.

Police discovered that the front plate glass window at the service station had been broken and entry had been gained.

An attempt to open the in-floor safe was unsuccessful, but a stolen key was found and was used to remove about $15 to $20 in change from a cash drawer.

'Assigned risk' is recommended

Granite City should move as rapidly as possible to meet with all requirements of the Illinois Industrial Commission to acquire "assigned risk" workmen's compensation for city employees, the City Council was warned Tuesday night.

The warning was sounded by Alderman Ronald Coleman of the Seventh Ward, chairman of the council's Finance Committee who said that Granite City has been without workmen's compensation insurance since Monday, expiration of the previous insurance contract. His suggestion for "immediate action" to name an insurance "agent of record" to meet an Illinois Industrial Commission requirement to obtain compensation insurance, was joined by City Attorney George Filcoff who agreed that the city is "self-insured" until it is able to obtain coverage.

Coleman revealed during the council session Tuesday night that the city's carrier of workmen's compensation, the Hartford Accident & Indemnity Co., notified the city that it would not renew the city's compensation policy upon its expiration March 14, which was Monday.

"This means," Coleman said, "that the city has been without workmen's compensation insurance since yesterday." Coleman said that he and City Clerk Robert Stevens, when made aware of the cancellation, applied for compensation through the state's assigned risk insurance pool directed by the Illinois Industrial Commission.

The state replied, however, that insurance could not be assigned until the city named an "agent of record," although insurance would not necessarily be assigned to that particular agent.

Coleman moved that the council agree to the appointment of the Whitman Insurance Agency of St. Louis, a firm that has prepared a package proposal for all other city insurance coverage, as agent of record to permit the assignment of insurance by the assigned risk agency.

A suggestion that the issue be deferred to further study from the issue brought opposition from Coleman who noted:

"The city is now without any workmen's compensation insurance. We would have to pay the bill if anything happened to one of our employees." Coleman urged that an agent be named immediately to permit Stevens to send back the application rejected by the state for lack of an agent of record for reconsideration.

Filcoff told the council that "under the circumstances I would suggest that you do something as soon as possible. Until you do, the city is self-insured. This is an urgent matter."

On a roll call vote to name the Whitman Agency as the city's agent was approved with only one dissenting vote among 13 aldermen present. That was cast by Alderman Everett Morlen of the First Ward.

In a related action, Coleman told the council that an overall insurance package offered the city by the Whitman Agency still is being studied and that a recommendation will be made soon.

That package would include indemnity insurance for Granite City police officers who now have neither indemnity insurance nor liability insurance covering use of police cars.

The National Sheriffs' Association two months ago obtained such insurance for the city through the Appalachian Insurance Co., but that company cancelled the policy only a few weeks after issuing it because of the claim risk involved.

Previous policies with the American Assurance Co. of St. Louis expired and were not renewed after a $100,000 judgment was ordered in a police shooting case.

Coleman said that the insurance package prepared by the Whitman Agency will include updated coverage in all municipal categories. The Whitman Agency, which was low bidder on the project and the only bidder offering to make the survey without a fee cost, will include all city property in the package, Coleman said.

In many instances, Coleman reported, it was found city property has no coverage or coverage far below the value of replacement. For example, he said, there is "very minimal" coverage on the City Hall building. Police squad cars have been without liability coverage for many years, he said.

Nameoki Church group plans events

"Love and Marriage: Facts and Fantasy" will be on this Sunday's program agenda when the Nameoki Presbyterian Church young people meet at 6 p.m. The Junior and Senior High group's programs are prepared by Pastor Don Pierson with mothers assisting in the social and service events. In anticipation of their summer youth tour to the New Wilmington Missionary Conference in Pennsylvania this summer, the youth of the church will hold their first car wash of the season this Saturday from 9:30 a.m. until 3 p.m. A paper drive is slated for Saturday, April 2 with friends being urged to save newspapers for the group. Several members of the Youth Fellowship will be attending the "Sports Weekend" at Mount Ridge Camp on April 15. Special guests for the weekend will be Mark Johnson, linebackers of the football Cardinals and Bob Samples, former head football coach of Belleville West. Coach Samples is serving as dean of the "Sports Weekend" for the churches of the Presbytery.

sanitary sewers should be funded through the Metro-East Sanitary District with a general county-wide tax, if necessary, to fund the local share of the project's cost, Mrs. Hawkins asserted.

She also said she would testify against the "back door" provision of the law which requires the signatures of 51 per cent of the registered voters and 51 per cent of the property owners on a petition opposing the special service area in order for it to be defeated.

Mrs. Hawkins said she will urge McPike to draft legislation requiring that petitions be obtained in favor of the project by at least 51 per cent of the voters and property owners before a special service area can be created.

She also said the present law does not allow persons included in the special service area to detach from the district if they do not want the sewer program, and such a provision should be included in any proposed changes to the legislation.

She contended several residents of Area One already have sanitary sewers under agreements with Granite City, and should not be taxed for new sanitary sewers.

Mrs. Andrews contacted the Press-Record and said she and Dyckman also have been asked to testify before McPike's subcommittee and they will testify in favor of the same amendments supported by Mrs. Hawkins.

She also noted any changes approved by the legislature are not expected to be retroactive, so they are not likely to have an effect on the sewer program or the pending court appeal, in her opinion.

Rep. McPike told the Press-Record Wednesday that he has not specially invited anyone to testify, but that those named and anyone else involved in projects for which special service area legislation will be used will be welcome at the committee hearing.

That welcome was extended to Mrs. Hawkins and Mrs. Andrews, he said.

He said that his bill, now being written, would eliminate only a "back door" petition requirement and switch the "burden of proof" onto those who want improvements, not on those against them.

He said either a referendum or petition in favor of creating special service areas and signed by 51 per cent of the voters and property owners in those areas could be used to create such areas. McPike contended that his proposed changes would not affect the Madison County sanitary sewer project, "which is being reviewed by the courts on the merits of the law under which it was established."

He said his aim is to improve the law for future projects, including one proposed for improvements in downtown Alton through creation of a special service area for businesses.

No provisions for persons to detach themselves from special service areas are to be suggested in his bill, he said.

"We still live by the principal of majority rule and I do not think anyone should be allowed to detach himself from a project approved by the majority of his neighbors. This bill would just assure that the majority approves the project and tax."

"I support the idea of special service area taxation, for those who want it."

"It can be a very good thing for people who want specific improvements, including sewers, and are willing to pay the tax. I am not trying to frustrate a good process with this bill," McPike commented.

He said the only other provision in his bill, other than switching the "burden of proof" from those opposing the special service area to those who are in favor, would be a paragraph clarifying "fuzziness" in previous legislation.

He said an earlier bill did not clarify what assets of banks could be used to determine their tax liabilities in a special service area, so he has included a provision that only the assessed valuation of a bank building could be used to determine its share of the tax bill.

McPike said his bill may be submitted to the House of Representatives in about two weeks and then would be assigned to a committee.

When that committee is to meet to review the bill, he will notify concerned businessmen, the Alton Chamber of Commerce, Mrs. Hawkins and "persons with a variety of backgrounds who may be affected by the issue" to testify before the committee, he pledged.

American Legion's 58th anniversary

Venice-Madison Post 307 and its Auxiliary celebrated the American Legion's 58th birthday during the weekend at the hall in Venice.

Dinner was served followed by the initiation of new post members by initiation team, Kenneth Hinson, Charles Creamer, Richard Pittenger, Jack Tolliver, Ray Freeman, and David Cozart.

A new digital watch was given to Harold Koelker Jr. by the American Legion for his continued support and help through the years as a non-member. Ned Freeman, representing the Cahokia Mounds Boy Scout Council, presented Post 307 with a plaque for its work in Boy Scouting.

The following American Legion dignitaries were present in evening: Paul Kraimer, 5th Division Commander from Effingham, Ralph Blumhorst, 22nd District Commander from Venedy; Kenneth Leroy, Madison-Bond County Commander from Highland; and Ray Harlan, District Sons of the Legion Chairman. Dancing followed the ceremonies. Approximately 300 were in attendance.

Wilson PTA hear candidates

Wilson School PTA observed Girl Scout month, conducted an election of officers at its monthly meeting, Tuesday night, and also heard local candidates speak.

The opening flag ceremony and pledge of allegiance was led by Brownie Troop 567 led by Mrs. Teresa Finn and Mrs. Phyllis Geske; Brownie Troop 490 directed by Mrs. Harriet Evans and Mrs. Marie Powell and Junior Girl Scout Troop under the leadership of Mrs. Olivia Parrish and Mrs. Becky Lipchik.

Various projects and crafts made by the girls were displayed on a table during the session.

Stallings PTA election set

Miss Ann Johnson, physical education teacher at Stallings School, will present a student gymnastic program at the PTA meeting scheduled for tonight at the school, according to Mrs. Judy Kopchak, president.

Plans for the session were discussed at an executive board meeting when officers agreed to assist the club costs financially.

In other business a slate of officers was discussed for presentation at the meeting tonight. Mrs. Kopchak noted there is no candidate for the office of treasurer and nominations will be accepted at the meeting.

Sunday School year at Niedringhaus

Wesley Hall of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church was the scene of an "old fashioned" pot luck dinner this week sponsored by the Sunday School Task Force. The social affair was organized to help stimulate Sunday School attendance, as 1977 has been designated "The Year of the Sunday School" by the pastor, Rev. Roy L. Baugh. After the invocation by the pastor the smorgasbord-type meal was enjoyed by all present. Entertainment followed with magic acts, a country and western singer, a square dance demonstration, a skit, special selections played on a "musical saw" and a reading.

Niedringhaus United Methodist Church conducts Bible classes for all age groups at 9:30 every Sunday. Everyone is welcome to attend regardless of church affiliation, Rev. Baugh added.

Burglar kicks way through doors, locks, hasps, bars

A burglar encountered numerous difficulties breaking into Craycraft's Tavern, 1034 Twentieth St., between 12:30 a.m. and 6 a.m. Tuesday.

One set of footprints indicated the burglar was alone. Entry was gained to a stairway by prying open a south door which had four locks on it and had been nailed shut.

After gaining entry to the stairway, a lock and hasp were forced off an interior door to the bar and the door was kicked open, despite a bar across the inside.

The supports for the bar were torn from the door frame. A bowling machine resting against the door was pushed back about three feet before entry was gained.

Stolen were about 11 quarts of liquor, $100 in change from the cash register, about 150 pennies and an assortment of candy, peanuts and cigars.

GC serviceman at recruiting office

A Granite City serviceman has been assigned to the U.S. Air Force Recruiting Office, 1204 N. Dearborn Ave., for the month of March.

Morrison, Alton, Dawn, Snowbird township issues

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

Although the winter dry spell caused the ground water level to drop to the point where some wells were nearly dry, the overall topic of drainage and water continues to be of interest in Nameoki Township and was the main topic of discussion at the Town Board of Auditors meeting Monday night.

The board read a letter from a resident near Johnson School on Old Alton Road saying that there was a problem with the only source of water for many homes there—have been dry twice recently and may go completely dry this summer, unless there is more of a rise in the water table than is so far apparent.

The resident said that the East St. Louis and Interurban Water Co. had been requested to extend a water line from Johnson School two blocks to the neighborhood where the man lives, but water officials said extending the main would cost $10,000 and the new users would need to pay that cost.

The man requested that the township consider sharing in the cost of extending the water line, using federal revenue sharing, community development or some other source of funds.

Nameoki Township Supervisor Louis Whitsell asked the board to consider the request in the revenue sharing budget now being prepared for the 1977-78 fiscal year which began March 1.

The opposite case—a surplus of water—was the factor in several other matters the board considered.

The board heard allegations that overflows from swimming pools into an alley between the 2200 blocks of Dawn and Bern avenues are causing flooding there, and that drainage from Granite City High School North is killing shrubbery at homes along Morrison Road.

The board's attorney, H. Carl Runge, advised the auditors not to get involved in either problem.

He said that declaring a health hazard due to overflows and installing an underground drainage line would be "setting a dangerous precedent" by correcting problem one neighbor allegedly inflicts on another neighbor.

He also noted that school drainage is not a Nameoki Township problem. The high school property has been annexed into Granite City Township while nearby homes are in Chouteau Township.

Runge said the residents may have views on alteration of surface drainage, but such issues are handled directly by the individuals involved.

Townships do not have drainage powers, the attorney said.

Whitsell noted an accumulation of water on Snowbird Lane during the weekend.

The water came close to several homes, he said, adding that the township is under a court order not to make drainage improvements in the Parkview Estates area including Snowbird Lane.

He asked Runge if anything can be done before the next heavy rain.

The court order came at the instigation of several farmers living east of Parkview Estates who said drainage improvements were causing added water to flow onto their farmland, flooding some of the land.

The township appealed the court order, and the Appellate Court also ruled in favor of the farmers.

Whitsell said Monday night, "If the court ordered the water to run the other way, why doesn't it?"

Runge suggested that the township begin taking daily water samples in an attempt to show that standing water is presenting a health hazard—and then attempt to get the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency involved in finding a solution.

Whitsell said pollution is sure to appear in standing water, since septic tanks are underneath.

He said drainage pipes being installed along the Maryville Road improvement project may offer an answer, and reiterated that courts "have ordered the water to drain uphill," to the west.

Maryville Road drainage was planned to accept drainage water from the area, so a lift station in Parkview Estates, turning the water to Maryville Road, may be the only immediate solution, Whitsell said. He estimated it would cost $20,000 to $30,000 to install a lift station and an underground drainage line to Maryville Road. But Runge said the EPA will be partially responsible for solving the problem if the township is successful in showing a health hazard exists.

"The state is going to have to help us. We will have to get them to share the load to get that water to Maryville Road," Runge said.

Auditor Norman Hessler added, "The situation is going to get worse this spring."

Whitsell asked Highway Commissioner Albert Bell to consult his attorney and determine if anything can legally be done by the highway department to provide temporary relief until a permanent answer can be found.

Road closings scheduled

Road closings and traffic backups during road repair work will be encountered for the next few weeks by drivers going to St. Louis and Edwardsville.

Route 157 between Route 162 and Interstate 70 near Glen Carbon will be closed Monday for three days during rebuilding of the Chicago & Western and Norfolk & Western rail crossings. Lengthy detours may be encountered in some areas.

Vandalia Street (Routes 143 and 157) in Edwardsville also will be closed from Route 159 (Buchanan Street) to Route 157 North (St. Andrews Avenue) five days starting March 28 for rail crossing repairs.

Motorists on Interstate 70 and 55 will experience traffic tieups within the next week near East St. Louis as the Illinois Department of Transportation begins resurfacing, water-proofing and repairing the bridge decks near the Poplar Street Bridge complex.

Repair work is expected to take about 90 days, during which from one to two lanes will be closed in various areas.

Work will begin on the deck connecting I-70 with I-64 with traffic restricted to one lane.

When that is completed, work will move to the I-70 and 55 bridge deck over St. Clair Avenue.

Various other closings of both eastbound and westbound lanes will follow.

"I have served in this office for the past 12 years and have always tried to be honest and responsive to the needs and problems of the people of the Third Ward."

"My reasons for seeking re-election as alderman are: to see the Third Ward as greatly improved, this alleviating congested traffic problems on Grand Street."

"To see the construction of our Municipal Complex Building on Delmar Avenue, housing city and township offices and, in part, a meeting place for our senior citizens, which is badly needed; and to see the 19th Street overpass become a reality."

"Also, I would like to see our Third-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, together with our city government, make a serious effort to secure land for an industrial park site, this attracting small industries like Madison and other small cities are doing."

"And, a concerned effort by the downtown business people and the city government to re-vitalize the downtown business district must be made."

"I am in favor of using our federal revenue sharing funds for the improvement of our city facilities and also of all forms of upgrading our current housing ordinance. A tax break for people who maintain their property in good condition or who improve it is more reasonable than penalizing improvements by imposing higher taxes."

"To recommend myself to you, let me say that I have one of the best records for attendance at council meetings. I have missed only three in the past 12 years—and those only because of hospitalization—a record of which I am extremely proud."

"Attending every meeting, keeping up on financial reports, budget reports from various departments—police, street, etc.—and debates on current issues is important and necessary."

"I believe a person must use common sense in performing aldermanic duties."

"I also believe that when 14 aldermen work together, voicing their opinions and getting the facts, our city will progress."

"Since I am fundamentally concerned with making Granite City a better place in which to live, I am asking everyone's help in re-electing me as alderman," Poulos concludes.

"I believe a person must use common sense in performing aldermanic duties."

Poulos, Padgett seek 3rd Ward council position

ROY G. POULOS
Roy G. "Chick" Poulos, 62, a Granite City Third Ward Alderman for the past 12 years, is seeking re-election April 5. He comments, "I reside at 2213 Benton Street with my wife, Virginia. We have two grown children, a daughter, Deena, and a son, Jan. I am a lifelong resident of Granite City and have been a resident of the Third Ward for 34 years."

WALTER PADGETT
Employed as a Granite City High School South counselor, Walter Padgett, 36, of 2219 Delmar Ave., is a candidate for Third Ward Alderman on the City Council in balloting April 5.

A veteran of the Air Force, Padgett resides here with his wife, the former Judith Carraher, and their children, Ann, nine years old, Elaine, eight, and Martha, five.

A member of St. John United Church of Christ, he was born in Granite City and is a lifelong local resident.

Padgett attended public schools here, graduating from Granite City High School in 1968, and received a bachelor of science degree in education from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville in 1965.

The master of science degree in education was awarded by SIUE in 1972 and he did graduate work in government at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale in 1975.

Padgett has held the Press-Record, "I have entered this election because of my deep belief in the potential of Granite City."

"Although faced with serious problems, I believe our city and the Third Ward can be safer and cleaner and can plan for the future and start growing again."

"I believe the people of the Third Ward are greatly concerned about crime and the decay of their neighborhoods. They want safe neighborhoods and clean streets and alleys."

"If I am elected, my objective will be to see that the problems facing the ward are met head-on and not pushed aside."

"It is my goal to provide the people of the Third Ward with responsible leadership—with a representative who will listen to their needs, keep himself informed, and search for common sense solutions to the problems facing the people of the ward and the city."

News notes

Illinois Department of Public Aid Director Arthur F. Quern today announced that a series of public forums to explain a proposed Title XX comprehensive annual services plan will be held. Included will be a forum Tuesday, March 22, in Belleville at Augustine's Ramada Inn, 1200 Centerville. Key officials of the eight state agencies that provide social services to Illinois residents will be available from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. to explain the Title XX plan and answer questions.

The Executive Advisory Committee of the East West Gateway Coordinating Council will consider at its next meeting at 1:30 p.m. Monday, March 21, authorization of a 19th Street traffic grade separation from Adams Street to West 20th Street in Granite City.

Preliminary engineering is listed for a structure over Norfolk and Western, Gulf, Mobile and Ohio and Illinois Terminal railroad tracks, Gateway officials said.

The Illinois Senate yesterday approved 56-0 outlawing messenger services for horse-race bettors. The House enacted a similar bill last week.

The U.S. Justice Department said yesterday new car prices will skyrocket unless the government forces broader warranties on pollution control devices on new autos.

Scientists say they are becoming convinced that the "bug" causing Legionnaires' Disease is not a new, but a widespread and thus a health menace.

Champaign, Charleston and Jacksonville legislators are proposing a bill granting Illinois school districts the option of adopting district-wide income taxes to augment or replace property taxes.

A U.S. Transportation Department appraisal of Alton Locks and Dam 26 has advised Congress there is doubt that capacity expansion is needed before 1990. It said there is time for a major study of the Alton facilities and also of all forms of Midwest transportation affecting river system capacity.

William E. Winter, a former Granite City man who is president of the Seven Up Co., said yesterday the firm's new Food and Drug Administration to reconsider its scheduled ban on saccharin. He said the sweetener has been used safely for almost 80 years.

Car damages lot, lawns at South High

Granite City police are attempting to identify the owner of an auto who drove in a reckless manner through the lawn and the front and rear parking lots of Granite City High School South at 10:10 a.m. Wednesday.

A school security monitor said he saw a car being driven recklessly in the back parking lot, but when he approached the car, it was driven at a high rate of speed out of the lot.

Moments later, the auto returned to the front parking lot where it again was reported being driven at high speed.

When the monitor approached the parking lot, the auto went onto the grass and through the front campus lawn. Between the gymnasium and the main building, the car spun around, tearing up grass and dirt.

It then continued across the lawn to Nameoki Road and left the scene. The car was a silver Monte Carlo, the monitor said.

tax benefits accorded single persons.

Whether the reader thinks this is a good or bad idea may be influenced by whether he or she is single or married. But in any case, the "marriage penalty" appears to be here to stay. This week's debate on Capitol Hill has focused on slightly reducing it, not abolishing it.

Gets probation

John Teator, 238 Grand Ave., was sentenced yesterday to two years probation and fined $100 and court costs after pleading guilty before Associate Judge A. Matossian in Granite City Court to a charge of criminal damage to property.

Teator was arrested on Feb. 10, 1977, at his home after Granite City Police Capt. Francis McManus alleged he observed Teator cutting off four tires on his car earlier that day.

Residents use delayed entry Navy program

The Raymond Stratton family of Granite City is answering the call of the sea in a big way. Both of the Stratton children, Raymond Jr., 21, and Gwendolyn, 18, have enlisted in the U.S. Navy and are undergoing basic training.

Ray Jr. enlisted under the Navy's delayed entry program in November and left for "boot camp" with his buddy, Robert Kitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kitchell, also of Granite City, on the last day of February.

Gwen Stratton enlisted in October and left for her active duty in January.

Mrs. Stratton was instrumental in helping her children select the Navy and their respective specialties. Gwen is guaranteed training in the medical service and Ray will be schooled in electronics. Both are graduates of Granite City High School South.

The Navy's delayed entry program gives a young person the opportunity to enlist in the Navy up to nine months before reporting for active duty. This allows time to finish school or personal business, or to take a vacation while earning seniority toward higher pay. The three were sworn into the Navy by the man who recruited them, Lieutenant Commander J. T. Rucker, executive officer of the Navy Recruiting District, St. Louis.

Propose 'major case squad'

Madison County State's Attorney Nicholas G. Byron is preparing an application for a grant from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration which would enable the establishment of a "major case squad" in Madison County.

Byron said the squad probably would consist of two prosecutors, an investigator and a secretary. When a major crime occurs, or an outbreak of a specific type of crime, local police departments could call upon the squad for investigation and to aid the police department in preparing the legal case against any suspects.

"Local police departments do not have the time or funds to adequately investigate all crimes, and we want to be sure we have the best possible chance of a conviction when a major crime occurs," Byron said.

He said bringing the investigative and prosecution aspects of the case together as early as possible aids in preparing a case "which will stand up in court."

No budget for the squad has yet been prepared.

James Nolen, 62, dies here

James E. Nolen, 62, of 3265 Carlson Ave., a retired Granite City Steel employee, died at 1:40 p.m. Tuesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital. He had been ill two years and hospitalized two weeks.

A native of Charleston, Mo., Mr. Nolen resided here 31 years.

Mr. Nolen worked at the local plant as a furnace operator from 1945 until he retired in 1956.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Ozell Nolen; two daughters, Mrs. Robert (Norma) Davis and Mrs. Mickey (Barbara) Hall, both of Granite City; two sisters, Mrs. Louise Scruggs of Charleston and Mrs. Lois Cooper of Ontario, Calif.; and three grandchildren.

Funeral services were held today. Details are given in the obituary column.

MFT allotments

Illinois municipalities have been allotted $7,457,928 as their share of motor fuel tax paid into the state treasury during February, according to the Illinois Department of Transportation.

Motor fuel tax funds are allocated monthly to the various municipalities in Illinois for their streets and highways. The monies allocated are computed on the basis of population.

Allotments to communities in the Quad-City area included $31,875 to Granite City, $5,375 to Madison and $2,572 to Venice. Statewide allocations to townships and road districts totaled $2,414,503, with $29,985 of the amount going to units in Madison County.

Allotments to counties, except Cook County, totaled $2,775,746. Of this amount, Madison County received $105,225.

Beljanski named to 'All District Cast'

Brian Beljanski, 17, son of Mrs. Kathleen Beljanski, 2000 Manley Ave., was named to the "All District Cast" at the Illinois High School Association District Drama and Reader's Theater competition during the weekend.

Beljanski is a senior at Granite City High School South. To be named "All District," Beljanski had to receive the votes of two of the three judges. South hosted the ISHA district contests in Reader's Theater and Drama.

Sparta high school won in the drama division and Belleville West won the Reader's Theater division.

South placed fourth in drama, presenting "Seascope" under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Klaus.

Richard King was in charge of Reader's Theater division and Mrs. Beverly Scroggins coordinated the drama presentations.

Ron Pennell, department chairman of speech and theater at South, was director of the tournament in which seven schools participated. The ISHA sectional tournament in Reader's Theater, Drama, and Debate will be held Friday and Saturday at Belleville East High School. Both South varsity debate teams will be in attendance. The public is invited, according to Pennell.

Buses provided to aid event for elderly, disabled

A citizens' committee arranging a night of free entertainment March 26 for senior citizens and disabled veterans announced today that free bus transportation to the Long Lake Fire Hall for the event has been donated.

Two Vandalia Bus Lines buses have been provided by Bob Thomas Memorial Mortuary to take senior citizens and disabled veterans to the event from five pickup centers. Additional stops for the buses may be arranged.

Anyone wishing to attend the free event may drive there or may board free buses at the Kirkpatrick Homes Recreation Center, the Anchorage Homes Recreation Center, Second Baptist Church at 2100 Illinois Ave., Central Christian Church, 2020 Johnson Road, or at the Granite City Senior Citizens' Center, 1920 Edison Ave.

Bus service will begin at 5 p.m. and the event will start at 6 p.m.

Entertainment for senior citizens and disabled veterans will include Phil Spence, local organist, composer and music teacher. Also playing the organ will be Norma Jean Lawson, music teacher and former professional musician.

J. W. Apperson, a Granite City policeman who performs magic as a hobby, also will entertain.

Eight-year-old Kim Asbeck, who has been studying the violin for four and one-half years, also is on the program. She has played with the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra as part of a guest string group from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Diane Palerino, vocalist, will perform.

Free refreshments have been donated.

Freeman Clinard, area service officer for the Illinois

Department of Veterans Affairs, chairman of the citizens' committee, said the event does not have political overtones, although numerous politicians have donated to a fund for the event.

He stressed candidates, politicians and dignitaries attending will be introduced, but no speeches will be allowed.

"We have set this up as an enjoyable evening for the disabled and senior citizens, and nothing more. Generous contributions by businessmen, politicians and others have enabled us to expand the program and provide transportation to where we now expect 300 or more people to attend," he said.

Explorer Post 255, sponsored by the Pontoon Beach Police Department, will help in the parking lot, directing traffic and watching the cars during the event to guard against vandalism or looting. The Explorers range in age from 14 to 21.

Members of the Granite City Township Senior Citizens' Club are being urged to contact the club's president, Edgar Padock, by noon Friday, March 25, if they need transportation. The event will conclude about 10 p.m. and buses will return riders to the places where they first boarded the buses.

"We are very happy with the acceptance this event has received from the senior citizens' clubs we have talked to, but we want to stress that the 'fun night' is open to the public. You do not have to belong to a club to be welcomed and enjoy a night of free entertainment."

"For disabled veterans and senior citizens, there is no admission charge. For everyone else, we are requesting only that they bring a senior citizen or disabled veteran with them as their admission," Clinard concluded.

Co-ops ask bigger nuclear power role

Illinois Power Company announced here Wednesday that two cooperative groups have indicated an interest in increasing their ownership in the company's nuclear generating station now under construction near Clinton, Ill.

Soyland Power Cooperative is interested in increasing its participation from 8.4 per cent to 10.5 per cent and Western Illinois Power Cooperative from 5.26 per cent to 9.5 per cent.

Agreements between Illinois Power and the cooperatives are being revised.

After final agreements are reached, several regulatory approvals must be obtained before the cooperatives' participation in the station becomes final.

The cooperatives need to obtain loan guarantees from the Rural Electrification Administration, Illinois Power and the cooperatives must also obtain approvals from the Nuclear Regulatory Commission, the Federal Power Commission and the Illinois Commerce Commission.

The process of obtaining regulatory approvals for the cooperatives' 20 per cent participation in the Clinton Power Station is expected to take several months, a spokesman said.

The City of Springfield, which had initially indicated an interest in participating in the Clinton station, did not exercise its option to do so.

The first 950-megawatt unit at the Clinton station is scheduled to go "on line" in late 1981. Illinois Power provides electricity and natural gas to a 15,000 square-mile area of Illinois.

Sen. Vadalabene named to Assembly space needs panel

Senate President Thomas C. Hynes, D-Chicago, yesterday announced appointment of Senator Sam M. Vadalabene, D-Edwardsville, to the Illinois Legislative Space Needs Commission.

The Space Needs Commission is empowered by law to review and approve all contracts for repair, rehabilitation, construction or alteration of all state buildings in the Capitol Complex in Springfield.

Vadalabene assumes the seat held by former Senate President Cecil A. Partee, who retired from the Senate in January.

"Sen. Vadalabene is one of the hardest working and most effective legislators in Springfield," Hynes commented. "That is why I selected him to serve on the Space Needs

Commission, which has the awesome assignment of overseeing all state buildings and grounds in the capital city. "The commission's overall role is to ensure that facilities for the operation of our state government are properly and efficiently managed and improved facilities in the Capitol Complex and I eagerly accept that challenge."

For such an important task," Hynes concluded. Vadalabene commented, "I am honored that our Senate president, Tom Hynes, has chosen me to serve on this important body. It is a challenging job to look after and improve facilities in the Capitol Complex and I eagerly accept that challenge."

Teachers' institute will attract 3,500

More than 3,500 teachers from public and non-public schools in Madison County are to participate in a countywide teachers' institute on Friday, March 25, at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Regional Superintendent Harold E. Briggs, reports that three nationally-known educators will speak in the Meridian Ballroom of the University Center during the 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. program.

Teachers may choose among 47 optional sessions in addition to exhibits of information and materials on new methods of education, books and learning tools, including audio-visual aids, on both floors of the University Center.

"The planning committee for the institute, consisting of representatives from every school district in the county, was dedicated to developing a quality so diversified that every certified person in Madison County will benefit," Briggs said.

Attendance of public school teachers who are not teaching also are invited. All public schools in Madison County, and some of the non-public schools, will be closed so that the teachers may attend. The speakers will be: Robert L. Williams, Ph.D., professor of psychology and black studies — and director of the graduate training program in urban minority mental health — at Washington University, St.

Louis. He has special interests in cognitive styles, identity issues, personality and development of tests for black people. Dr. Williams is also founder-president of Robert L. Williams Associates, Inc., Educational & Psychological Services, St. Louis.

He has numerous articles and chapters in books and has been honored with many awards, including a 1976 award from the American Personnel and Guidance Association. His topic will be, "Being Is Not Enough — One Must Know."

William Van Til, Ph.D., educator and writer, Coffman distinguished professor of education at Indiana University, Terre Haute.

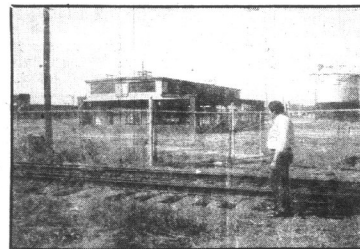

Dr. Van Til is an authority in the field of foundations of curriculum development and has served as president of the Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development. He is the author of more than 30 books on a wide range of subjects, as well as articles, columns and reviews on varied aspects of education.

He began teaching in a reform school and taught for nine years at the junior and senior high school level. Dr. Van Til's topic: "Today's Educational Crossroads." Donald O. Clifton, Ph.D., business executive, teacher, psychologist, researcher, author and lecturer. GC man dies of gunshot wound

Herman Travis, 38, of 2323 Hodges Ave., died in surgery at 10:30 p.m. Monday at St. Elizabeth Hospital, about 50 minutes after he suffered a gunshot wound to his lower chest.

Family members said Mr. Travis was alone in a basement bedroom of his home when his .22 caliber rifle discharged and he screamed.

His mother ran to the basement and turned on the lights to find Mr. Travis lying on his bed with a puncture wound to his chest and the rifle lying on the floor beside him.

Mrs. Travis ran next door to the home of Mrs. Carol Wofford, 2321 Hodges Ave., where she requested assistance. Mrs. Wofford called for an ambulance.

Ambulance attendants administered oxygen to Mr. Travis and called for assistance from police and a fire department inhalator unit.

Police found the recently-fired, lever-action rifle unloaded and on a chair about four feet from the foot of the bed. Mr. Travis' mother said she moved the gun.

Mr. Travis ate dinner with his family Monday night and then said he was going to lie down. A short time later, about 9:40 p.m., his brother heard the scream and found him wounded.

The mother said Mr. Travis had been depressed recently and had been under a doctor's care.

Mr. Travis was born in Tennessee Ridge, Tenn., and had resided here for 36 years.

He was employed in the casting department of Chemtco Co., Hartford, for five years. Mr. Travis was a member of the United Steelworkers of America, Local 7866 of Hartford.

He was a member of Grace Baptist Church.

Other than his mother, survivors include two sons, Brian Travis of Barlow, Ky. and Jeffrey Travis of Edgewood, Ill.; two daughters, Karen and Kathy Travis both of Edgewood; and one sister, Mrs. Betty Willmore of Madison, Wis.

Funeral services were held today. Details are given in the obituary column.

Police seek cycle owner

A youth who fled from a police car on a motorcycle Monday night escaped into Kirkpatrick Homes, but police are holding the motorcycle pending identification of the driver.

A Granite City officer said he saw a youth riding a motorcycle on the playground at Sacred Heart Church at 7:40 p.m. Monday and when he drove toward the cyclist, the youth fled at a high rate of speed with no lights.

The squad car chased the youth south on Kate Street, through the stop sign at 25th Street, east on 25th Street through the stop light at Henry Street, north on Henry Street violating the stop sign at Hodges Avenue, and then east on Hodges Avenue into the old cemetery behind Kirkpatrick Homes.

In the cemetery, the youth lost control, the motorcycle overturned, and the youth ran into the housing project.

He was described as having long dark hair, dark trousers and a light-colored waist-length jacket.

Administrative salary policy revision voted

The Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees has just adopted a policy on academic and administrative salaries, particularly in regard to persons who are reassigned from administrative to faculty positions.

The policy states that the monthly salary rate of a staff member with a tenure rank who has been assigned an administrative title will be based on the individual's experience and the assigned administrative responsibilities and level of duties.

A staff member holding a tenure rank and serving in an administrative position on a fiscal year basis is subject to reassignment to an academic year appointment for teaching, research or service duties. The reassignment can be made in the fiscal year following the period covered by the current notice of appointment or during the current fiscal year if the reassignment is for cause.

Monthly pay of a person who has been reassigned will be recommended by the appropriate administrative officers after consultation with the individual to be reassigned. In determining the amount of the monthly salary, the policy stipulates that the following guidelines will be considered:

—The nature of the reassignment position.

—The individual's experience, academic qualifications, service to the university and similar factors.

—The salary range within the university for the academic rank within the school or college to which reassignment is made.

The policy was proposed by the SIU System Council, which was directed by the SIU Board at its November 1976 meeting to submit a proposal for a revised shadow salary policy which recognizes the principle of establishing the academic salary upon a change from administrative assignment on the basis of academic qualifications and under the principle that no prior restraints apply to the terms of salary, academic responsibilities or other conditions of employment in the academic position.

The revision was sought after it was noted that reassignment administrators in some cases might continue at higher pay than their new duties might indicate.

Soy market development

Illinois soybean producers have provided another $100,000 for market development work conducted by the American Soybean Association (ASA), bringing their total investment so far this marketing year to a record $550,000. The money was collected through the Illinois half-cent per bushel checkoff program and allocated by the Illinois Soybean Program Operating Board, an elected group of soybean farmers.

"Our commitment to the ASA Market Development Foundation for the current marketing year was $25,000," said Patrick Scates of Shawneetown, chairman of the Bloomington-based operating board.

"The revision since last Oct. 1 is nearly double that amount," Scates said he believes another $500,000 may yet be channeled to market development this year but most of the checkoff funds collected during the balance of the year will be allocated to soybean research.

The money provided by Illinois farmers is allowing the ASA to move ahead with plans for an international soy protein conference in the Far East. Scates commented, "The conference will be conducted in Singapore next January and will be used to disseminate information to the many Asian countries interested in soy protein foods for human consumption."

2-2 tie vote on retirement pay

A resolution to make-up three years' back benefits in the Illinois Municipal Retirement fund for former Nameoki Township Tax Collector Edgar Patrick was withheld from approval by the Nameoki Town Board of Auditors on a 2-2 vote Monday night, but is to be reconsidered at the board's next meeting March 29.

Louis Whitsell, township supervisor, presented the resolution to the board, saying Patrick had decided not to participate in the IMRF program when he was the tax collector but now wishes to make up his back benefits.

Patrick and the township would have to pay their shares of the IMRF premiums to the fund in order to give Patrick credit for 1970, 1971 and 1972.

The IMRF fund has a provision for retroactive service credit, under which Patrick qualifies, Whitsell said.

Patrick's present employment includes IMRF participation. Auditors W. Lee Adams and Norman Hessler asked the amount of the township's contribution to IMRF to catch up for the three-year period.

Whitsell said he did not have that information available and would have to get it from the IMRF office in Chicago.

Hessler said he would not vote in favor until he knew how much it would cost the township and he made a motion to table the resolution until the next meeting.

Whitsell ruled the motion out of order and called for a roll call vote on the resolution. Hessler and Adams voted "no" and Whitsell and Kenneth Gieson voted in favor. Auditor Eugene Gargac was absent.

Hessler suggested Whitsell present it again Tuesday, March 29, when figures on the township's share of the contribution have been determined.

Whitsell said Wednesday the IMRF in Chicago estimated Patrick's share would be $950 for the three-year period and the township's contribution, to be paid over the next three years, would total about $1,650.

Whitsell noted that the $1,650 estimate is based on the township's current IMRF rate and could decrease if the rate changes during the next three years.

Patrick collected property taxes for the township in 1970, 1971 and 1972. He also served as collector in 1973, but did not collect any taxes after the Town Board voted not to appropriate a budget for his office and to let the Madison County treasurer collect the township's taxes.

Richard Peck was elected as the next tax collector and local collection of taxes in Nameoki Township resumed in 1974.

Nameoki reports surplus

Nameoki Township had a $132,568 surplus left in its various funds at the end of the fiscal year ending Feb. 28, according to the final treasurer's report to the Nameoki Town Board of Auditors Monday night. It was noted a small amount of tax money still due could increase the surplus.

The report showed $135,253 in surplus funds, but the board voted to approve bills totaling $2,725 from the previous budgets during Monday night's meeting, reducing the balance to $132,568.

Surpluses included $57,676 in the town fund, $44,026 in the special hard road fund, $14,334 in the road and bridge fund, $3,343 in the general assistance fund, $1,829 in the special bridge fund and $12,247 in the revenue sharing fund.

The municipal retirement fund finished the fiscal year $1,285 in the red, but was bolstered by a $5,000 loan from the town fund which will have to be repaid in the new budget now being prepared.

The report noted that at the end of the fiscal year, the township had $76,700 in surplus funds invested in interest-bearing certificates and accounts. Investments of surplus funds netted the township $28,140 in interest during the year, according to the report.

Such a procedure would result in considerable delay in clearing the route for construction of the overpass.

If the traffic study and the soil tests result in permanent approval of the 19th Street route by the federal transportation department, Schuler said, then design planning by the M. W. Architects & Engineers, St. Louis planning firm handling engineering work for the project, may begin.

A similar traffic count previously was made at 19th Street and West 20th Street.

Brewer said these studies are being made in connection with the 19th Street site to determine the number of vehicles and the directions in which they travel.

Schuler said that the tentative approval of the 19th Street choice was received pending solution of two suggestions made by the federal DOT.

One of these suggestions was for the traffic study now being made. The other, he said, involves the cost of right-of-way for the 19th Street approach.

Schuler said that while the original site survey for a 19th Street approach estimated right-of-way cost at $600,000, he agreed with DOT officials that this cost appears high.

"We have looked over this estimate and have revised it downward to about $200,000, and even that may be liberal," the mayor said, noting that some property owners along that route have agreed to donate property needed for easements.

Mayor Schuler said that he hopes compliance with the two suggestions by the federal DOT will result in final approval of the 19th Street location soon, possibly in a meeting of high officials to be held in East St. Louis on March 23.

He said the federal DOT action does not resolve the question of whether the overpass project will be considered as a "Major action" or a "non-major action" by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency.

A study on this matter is now being made by the state EPA to determine if the overpass project will constitute an impact on the environment. City officials are hoping for a "non-major action" ruling since it would eliminate the need of an environmental impact statement.

Such a procedure would result in considerable delay in clearing the route for construction of the overpass.

If the traffic study and the soil tests result in permanent approval of the 19th Street route by the federal transportation department, Schuler said, then design planning by the M. W. Architects & Engineers, St. Louis planning firm handling engineering work for the project, may begin.

Council 'files' expense request by treasurer

Granite City Council members placed on file by a 7 to 6 vote Tuesday night a request by City Treasurer Paul Rutledge that he be granted payment of $1,000 as car expenses for the years he has served as city treasurer.

Rutledge, who was appointed treasurer in June 1971 after serving 23 years as an alderman, told the council by letter that he received no auto expense during his service as treasurer, although the city this year has approved a $600 annual expense account for the city treasurer and the city clerk.

He said he believed that because of the new policy of allowing expenses to the treasurer he was entitled to the sum for the nearly six years that he used his car in the conduct of business for the treasurer's office. Rutledge said this amounted to approximately 51 cents per day for the period he has held the office.

Rutledge is not seeking reelection in this year's municipal election on April 5 because of health reasons.

While no discussion on the request was held, a motion to place the request "on file" was disputed by some aldermen who called for a roll-call vote on the motion.

Voting "no" on the motion to file the request were Aldermen Sam Whitmer, Gerald Parmley, Frank Greenwald, Ronald Coleman, Curtis Blevins and Glen Sprankle.

Voting "yes" were Aldermen Clyde Boyd, Roy Poulos, William Dallas, Everett Morien, Steve Basarich, Earl Baker and Emerald Dawes.

Chapter HT elects officers Mrs. Carl Mathias was elected president of Chapter HT, P.E.O. Sisterhood, at a meeting on Monday held in the home of Mrs. Arthur Menendez, 3261 Willow Ave.

Others who will serve with Mrs. Mathias include Mrs. Irvin Slate, vice-president; Mrs. Maurice Dailey, recording secretary; Mrs. Arthur Menendez, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Randall Robertson, treasurer.

Plans were completed to combine an officer training school and Founders Day program on May 30.

The hostess decorated her dining table with a St. Patrick's day motif and served a dessert course to 16 members.

Mrs. Charles Kohl, 2340 Gary Ave. will entertain the group on March 28.

A special children's show will be presented during the 1 p.m. luncheon hour at The Oriental Restaurant, 1535 Johnson Road, Sunday, according to the new manager, William Ching.

Featured entertainer will be Fred "Skinny" Strode of Mitchell, a ventriloquist and magician. He also will appear from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. on Monday and Tuesday nights.

The special Sunday luncheon will cost $2.25 for adults and children and Polynesian soft drinks will be served free to the youngsters, the manager added.

CHILI DAY SET The Madison-Venice Rotary Club will have a Chili Day Wednesday, March 23, in the Madison Recreation Center, Seventh and Lee Streets, Marion. Chili and dessert and drink will be served from 11:30 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. and again from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Tickets are $1.50 each. Persons wishing carryouts have been asked to bring their own containers, club officials said.

Slavings was ordered to hand over his money and lie on the floor, but Slavings instead pushed the robber out the front door and the robber ran on 25th Street to Adams Street, according to the witnesses.

Seconds later, Slavings decided to pursue the robber and chased a man into a vacant building at 2440 Adams St. When police arrived, they surrounded the building and searched it, but were unable to find the robber. A building next door also was searched.

Lela Montgomery of Granite City, a customer in the store when the robbery occurred, said she was in the back of the store and saw a man holding a gun and demanding money.

Since the robber did not see her, she left through the rear door while the robbery was in progress. While she was getting into her car, she saw the robber run on 25th Street to Adams Street, but said he then fled north on Adams Street.

The robber was described as about 21 to 22 years old, about 5 feet, 10 inches tall, weighing 150 pounds and having brown eyes. A black stocking mask with red trim covered his head except for his eyes and mouth.

He wore a brown CPO jacket and dark pants.

Approval of the $56,000 grant, authorized by the Illinois State Health Department and the Illinois Department of Transportation clears the way for state reimbursement of 70 percent of the cost of the ambulance units purchased by the city.

Following the council session the aldermen and other city officials went to St. Elizabeth Hospital to inspect quarters that have been provided there for one of the three city ambulance stations.

Trained emergency medical technicians went on duty at midnight at the hospital station, at the Nameoki Fire Station and the No. 1 Fire Station. A fourth ambulance is held in reserve for a major disaster, or as a replacement for the other units.

The ambulance service phone number 877-477 rings at all three stations and is answered at all of those points. The emergency unit nearest the point of the call responds. Parente said calls requiring rescue operations will be answered by the No. 1 Fire Station where the rescue truck is stationed.

The city met the deadline for ambulance service within little more than a month from the time that Thomas Ambulance Service notified the city it planned to cutback its emergency service to a point that would be inadequate to accommodate the area.

In late January the Thomas firm told the city it planned to cutback its service at midnight on March 15.

The first call answered by the city service was received at 7:30 a.m. Wednesday and was answered by the EMTs at the Nameoki Station who reported they picked up a patient in the 8000 block of Sunday suffering from emphysema. He was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital.

City-operated ambulances will answer calls outside the city limits on a "backup" basis if the Thomas service is unable to respond, Parente said.

Calls received from outside the city limits will be referred to the Thomas office which will make the call if an ambulance is available.

pipefitter welder and journeyman sheetmetal worker. I have in good standing withdrawal cards from both organizations.

"A member of the Mitchell Presbyterian Church, I served as building chairman when the present church was built. I am a member of Edwardsville Masonic Lodge 99, the Mississippi Valley Consistory, White Shrine of Jerusalem 78, U. S. Civil Defense Council and the Township and County Officials of Illinois.

"My wife, Laverna, and I have two children, Katherine and James, and ten grandchildren. We have been married 44 years.

"I have been a member of the Chouteau Town Board for 19 years, including serving as town clerk and supervisor.

"I believe this past experience and my record of honesty and integrity as a township official qualify me to ask for the support and vote of the citizens to help finish the several large projects we have started for the benefit of the people and the township with the revenue sharing and community development funds which we have received from the federal government.

"I promised in the last campaign that we would operate the township government in an unbiased and non-partisan political manner, for the benefit of all the people. This we have done.

"I promised I would operate the town government as efficiently as possible, and this we have done, and were able to lower your Town Fund and General Assistance Fund tax rates this past year, thereby lowering township taxes for the coming year in these two funds."

"Supervisor Sparks comments: "I promised in the last campaign that I would work to build a new township storage and maintenance building for our highway department, and this we have done.

"We purchased almost seven acres of property located at the Interstate Highway 270 overpass and Route 203 on the Old Chain of Rocks Road and built the new highway building at a cost of $70,000. This property and building were paid for with revenue sharing funds at no additional cost to the property owners.

"We also have under construction at this time our new office building and social center which we expect to be complete by June.

"This building was designed by Architect John Rapp with the assistance of the town board and the Community Development Citizens Committee, consisting of seven members—local residents who have been interested in the good and welfare of the community for a number of years.

"The social building is being designed to care for all the needs of the various groups in the township, such as senior citizens—when we get our group formed—Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, Athletic Club, weddings, showers and all other activities desired by our people.

"This building is being paid for out of Community Development Fund grants and revenue sharing funds which we made application for and received by meeting all the requirements set down by the government.

"The money building will cost about $200,000, paid for entirely from funds received from these grants and at no additional cost to the property owners.

"I promised that I would work hard to get sewers in our area. This I have done.

"We have at this time a grant from the state of Illinois for over $13,000,000 to pay 75 per cent of the cost of construction when we can raise our matching share of 25 per cent or $3,000,000.

"They have recently informed the committee by letter that they will hold the grant for our project until Jan. 1, 1978 at which time we must have the sewers under construction or they will withdraw the grant and we will lose the offer. If this happens, I feel that this will be a catastrophe to our area, not only from an environmental standpoint, but economically for our people who need employment.

"I promise at this time that, if elected, I will devote almost full time to my political duties, which I have done in the past two years, seeing that all my duties were cared for on time and with diligence.

"I feel that it is of great importance to the people of our township to re-elect me and the other candidates on my ticket so we can work together to complete these fine projects we have going, in the most honorable and efficient manner." Sparks concludes.

Initially appointed as supervisor, he was elected to four-year terms in 1969 and 1973.

Hope Lutheran guest speaker

Richard Robinson, of the Chicago branch of Jews for Jesus, will be a special guest speaker at a public gathering at Hope Lutheran Church on Monday, March 21, at 7:30 p.m. The group, under the leadership of Minnie Rosen, is said to be the fastest-growing organization of its kind, in three years established branch offices in five major U.S. cities.

The message, according to Rosen, is that "Jewishness and Christ go hand in hand. We didn't give up our Jewish heritage when we became believers in Jesus, and we want other Jewish people to know that Jesus is a real option."

Jews for Jesus have taken this message to cities across the U.S. and overseas.

Robinson was raised in New York. He received a degree in English from Syracuse University and did graduate work at the State University of New York. He is in his second year of study at Trinity Evangelical Divinity School, Deerfield.

Missionary starts life-long dream in Indonesia

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD Thurs., March 17, 1977 Page 32

By VALERIE EVENEDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

A unique kerosene refrigerator, a sturdy bicycle and an incredible amount of supplies, sufficient to last four years in some instances, are enroute to New Guinea by sea this week.

They are the life-sustaining material possessions needed by a 27-year-old missionary, who will spend the next four years in Nabire, Irian Jaya, a section of Indonesia on the island of New Guinea.

John "Jack" Dawson, formerly affiliated with Bethel Evangelical Free Church, 2450 Stratford Lane, and a former assistant pastor at another church, already has started the momentous adventure in a calling which has fermented inside him since the age of 14.

Before assuming his new role as a missionary in Irian Jaya, Dawson is spending three weeks in Europe. He will be departing by plane from Zurich, Switzerland, to New Guinea next week.

Dawson left Kennedy International Airport, New York, last Tuesday for Luxembourg, then went by train to Berlin to visit an old friend, Army Staff Sergeant Larry Creek of Glen Carbon. He is in Germany this week, preparing to leave for Zurich. His future mission in New Guinea is not quite the same role a missionary usually plays. Dawson is not being sponsored overseas by a specific church, nor does he have the monetary backing of a foreign missions board or society.

His service in Irian Jaya for the next four years will be underwritten for the most part, by his own life savings and the proceeds from various fundraising projects staged in Granite City and neighboring communities.

Added to these funds are donations of friends, neighbors, relatives and individuals who have heard Dawson speak about his mission in life at different churches in the past few years.

He has been saving and working toward his missionary goal for six long years.

Dawson will be working in Indonesia with a non-denominational mission group called Un evangelized Fields Mission, headquartered in Pennsylvania at Bala Cynwyd, just outside of Philadelphia.

Among the requirements Dawson had to meet before being qualified to accept an assignment in New Guinea MISSIONARY. John "Jack" Dawson, who is enroute to New Guinea to fulfill a 13-year dream of becoming a missionary.

was a specific amount of cash deposited in a bank and possession of a kerosene refrigerator in working condition.

Acquiring sufficient funds was difficult, taking almost six years of hard work.

Finding a kerosene refrigerator in usable condition proved almost impossible.

Dawson finally found such an appliance in Kidron, Ohio. It was manufactured in Denmark and cost Dawson $600 to buy.

Even "old timers," with whom the future missionary had talked, found it difficult to remember ever seeing such a refrigerator, he said.

Enroute to Bala-Cynwyd from here last week, Dawson picked up his prized refrigerator in Ohio, loaded it into a rental truck he was driving and deposited it along with his other supplies and equipment for crating and shipment to New Guinea by freighter.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dawson of Glen Carbon, traveled with their son to Philadelphia.

His father, a long-time employee of the Nestle plant here, helped to drive the truck and his mother wanted to be with their son "as long as possible before he left."

Mrs. Robert (Emma) Peters, 2310 Illinois Ave., the young missionary's sister said this week.

At the mission group's headquarters, the parents had an opportunity to talk with the mission director who had returned in September from the same area of Irian Jaya where Dawson is to be living.

Nabire is located in a valley, surrounded by mountains, the second largest island in the world next to Greenland, is a fertile land with natural wealth, but still is undeveloped.

It was invaded by the Japanese in World War II and was the scene of fierce fighting between the Allies and the Japanese, climaxing in 1943 with an Allied victory.

Dawson will be working among Indonesian trans-migrants who are Indonesian citizens moving within Indonesia, primarily settling on free land offered by the government in an attempt to populate Irian Jaya and relieve overcrowded conditions elsewhere in the southeast Asian nation.

A missionary couple is in the Nabire area, but Dawson will have to make his own way when he arrives. He must build his own house and will spend several months learning the Indonesian language.

The bicycle, now with his other supplies on the high seas, will be his sole means of transportation. He also has taken a generator with him, because electricity is very limited in his new home.

His cache of supplies includes sufficient soap for four years and hundreds of candles. He can receive replacement items during his stint in Indonesia, but supplies must be ordered six months ahead of delivery and some items are not suitable for shipping, it was explained.

Dawson attended the Appalachian Bible Institute in Bradley, W. Va., for three years, completing the Bible-pastoral course. He served for a short time as assistant pastor of a church in Owensville, Ky., before returning to this area.

While preparing for his missionary role, Dawson worked for two years at the Nestle plant here and visited many different churches.

To aid his quest, members of Bethel Evangelical Free

Church sponsored rummage and yard sales and gave the young missionary a "shower" of kitchen items he will need in his future life.

The people of Irian Jaya are being taught how to grow vegetable gardens, along with the teaching of Christ, his mother said.

An earthquake, which struck the area about three weeks ago, left devastation in many places.

On a printed card carried by the young man is a map of New Guinea, showing the location of Irian Jaya and the island's position to the northwestern tip of Australia, across the Torres Strait.

Also is written a quote from St. Paul's second letter to the Thessalonians 3:11 — "Finally, brethren, pray for me that the word of the Lord may have free course, and be glorified, even as it is with you."

Individuals wishing to aid the young missionary in his new life may send donations to him personally at: Jack Dawson, c/o U.P.M., Sentani, Irian Jaya, Indonesia, or through the Un evangelized Fields Mission Home Office, P.O. Box 306, Bala Ave., Bala-Cynwyd, Pa., 19004, designating the contribution to Jack Dawson.

Elementary spelling competition Saturday

Cliff St. James, a television weatherman who portrays Corky the Clown, will be pronouncer for the finals in the sixth grade division of the Granite City elementary spelling bee, to be held at Granite City High School South on Saturday, March 19.

Winners from each of 16 Granite City elementary school contests will participate in the finals. Students participated at three levels of competition—primary, for second and third grades; intermediate, for fourth and fifth grades; and the sixth grade.

Trophies will be awarded to the champion in each level, with ribbons going to runners-up. All sixth grade school champions are to be eligible to participate in April in a greater St. Louis spelling bee.

Spelling competition will be held at 9 a.m. Saturday at Granite City High School. The public is being invited to attend.

Serving as judges and pronouncers for the contests will be: St. James; Carol Hildebrand, Prather English, department head; Fred "Pat" Schumacher, Grigsby assistant principal; Beverly Scroggins, South speech teacher; Mary Turner, Grigsby English department head; L. William Fever, Prather assistant principal; Carol Noeth, North English teacher; Helen Kuenster, South English department head; Wayne Hubbard, North speech teacher; and Donna Clow, Coolsidge English department head.

BALLET TO BE FEATURED At the Granite City High School South Band concert at 8 p.m. today in the South auditorium, Donna Luebert and Lisa Salem will dance to the ballet selection from the "Swan." Bonnie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rich Luebert, 21 Riviera Drive, and a student at South. Lisa is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Terry Salem, 3836 John Glen Drive, and a student at Grigsby Junior High.

Miles

commitment. He is presently serving on the executive board of the Madison County Central Democratic Committee and is president of the Madison County Social Democrat Club.

He is a member of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce and St. Louis Association of Manufacturers Representatives, and is a U.S. Army veteran.

Chouteau Township has shown a pronounced lack of dynamic leadership over the past few years," Miles comments. "It is now apparent that there is a need for new and creative leadership in our township."

"For example, we are all proud of our highway garage and new township office and social building that were financed through revenue sharing and community development funds. However, the construction of these buildings has been long overdue."

"If our past administrators had handled and financed it differently, we would have had these buildings years ago and could now be using our government and state funds to promote various other improvements — such as permanent roads, drainage, street lighting, senior citizen assistance, etc."

"Instead, our officials chose to use township funds for rentals of garages and homes of elected officials for their offices. The amount paid officials for rent over the years would have paid for township buildings," Miles asserts.

"Another example of the present lack of leadership is the controversial sewer issue."

"The last eight years we have heard discussions about sewers and spent thousands of our township tax dollars in planning, engineering and proposals."

"At this time we still are uncertain about sewers, or how they will be installed, or how they can be financed in a manner more acceptable to the people."

"I believe we could have gotten more definite answers concerning this issue if it had been taken to the people and given a chance to vote on the spending of their tax dollars," Miles says.

"Another important issue of interest to Chouteau Township is the result of the state statute passed in 1975. It is unlawful for Mr. Sparks to hold the position of township supervisor and the position of County Board member simultaneously after December 1976."

"Mr. Sparks has not publicly stated what his choice would be in this instance."

"This creates the possibility that a township supervisor would be appointed by the Town Board and the citizens would be deprived of the right to select a township supervisor for a full term. This is an elected office and I believe it should remain as such."

"If I am elected, I can serve as supervisor without conflict or question for the next four years," Miles concludes. "If elected, I pledge to work closely with other elected officials and all people of our township to continuously improve our community."

Does an 18th Century hearth have a place in a 20th Century home?

A fireplace in the kitchen? We thought you might like to relive the good old days - every day, today!

YOU ARE INVITED to see with us not one but two homes with fireplace in the kitchen. They are brand new and ready for your approval. Located at 4800 D'Lynn Drive and 2147 Foreman Court in all new Northland Estates.

MARYVILLE, GRIGSBY AND NORTH SENIOR HIGH are for the children. Oh, yes, these are all brick ranch homes with formal entry, three bedrooms, living room and dining room, full basement, dishwasher and range in kitchen, full carpeting, two baths and extra large two car garage.

THE LOT IS SPACIOUS. For a limited time only the price on each is $43,900. The price must go up to $44,900 on May 1. You can offer you a generous trade on your present home or you can buy for as little as 5 per cent down.

DO YOU DESIRE A FAVOR and call today as we're convinced these are "never again" prices. Remember, too, that as the year goes by we will have many brand new homes to choose from. When you're ready, we'll be ready.

A WORD OF ADVICE, THOUGH. Start early and avoid inevitable price rises.

'Love Gives Hope' is Church Women's theme

Concerns and goals of Church Women United (CWU) around the world were described in a film presentation highlighting "World Day of Prayer" at Mount Nebo Missionary Baptist Church in Madison.

Attending the event were 110 persons representing churches in the Quad-Cities which are affiliated with the local Church Women United.

Women from Mount Nebo entertained at a coffee hour during pre-service registration. Mrs. Ann Roberts and Mrs. Wilhelmina Watts were in charge of the guest register. Mrs. Ivory Williams led the offertory.

Mrs. Margie Pennell, CWU president, greeted the members and announced the group here will start several new projects, including Bible study sessions, Meals on Wheels and a telephone service, whereby elderly persons are to be contacted on a daily basis.

The Rev. Jerome Jackson, pastor, welcomed the CWU members and expressed the hope the organization will continue to give to all the countries around the world.

The minister said it was "fitting that this meeting is being held in one of the oldest Baptist churches in this area."

Mrs. Marion Pierson, World Day of Prayer chairman, opened the program by leading the choir in song.

The film presentation illustrated the CWU's many and varied programs, including prayers shawls in Korea, health needs in India and day care centers in America, among many other current projects.

In all programs the main theme is "Love gives hope," Mrs. Pierson stressed.

Mrs. Joyce Schraeder asked those at the special service to reflect on "these commitments" and to make personal commitments to help those in need in their own community.

"World Day of Prayer" is the most widely observed ecumenical celebration sponsored by Church Women United, the movement through which Protestant, Roman Catholic and Orthodox women express their unity through prayer, fellowship, study and cooperative action in 2,000 local communities in every state across the nation.

8 candidates of 2 parties seeking 4 Nameoki Town trustee posts

JOSEPH B. BOYER

Joseph B. Boyer, 34, of 3320 VFW Lane, State Park Place, is seeking a position as trustee of Nameoki Township.

A candidate on the United for Progress ticket, he has been employed as a sales representative of Borbein-Young and Co., St. Louis.

Boyer a year ago was an unsuccessful candidate for District 25 member of the Madison County Board.

His family includes his wife, Virginia, and son, Greg.

As a county candidate, he urged improved law enforcement, senior citizen services and air and water quality.

Four trustee positions, formerly called town auditor positions, are to be filled in balloting April 5 in Nameoki Township.

Eugene Gargac is retiring from township office.

Of the three incumbents, Kenneth G. Gieson is running on the Continued Action Party and W. Lee Adams and Norman A. Hessler are candidates of the United for Progress Party.

Eight candidates are running for the four trustee positions.

KENNETH G. GIESON

Kenneth G. Gieson, 57, of 2301 Miracle Ave., has been a resident of Nameoki Township for the past 20 years. He is a candidate for the Nameoki Township Board of Trustees on the Continued Action Party ticket.

Born in St. Louis, he attended schools there and has been employed as a truck driver for the Eilerman Transfer Company. He has been a member of Teamsters Local 660 for over 30 years.

Gieson and his wife, Wanda, have one son, Dennis, who is an ensign in the U.S. Navy. Dennis Gieson and his wife, Pamela, are living in Jacksonville, Fla., where he is stationed.

The township official served as president of the Nameoki Township Kiwanis Club in 1957.

He also was institutional representative of Cub Scouts at Frohardt School.

The first to be elected as president of the Maryville School Parent-Teacher Association, he also was re-elected for a second term.

Gieson is now completing his second four-year term as Nameoki Township auditor (trustee). His comments are:

"There are many projects that have been started that have to be completed.

"These projects need the intelligent leadership and the cooperation of an entire board. I think the Continued Action Party ticket can give the people of Nameoki Township that kind of leadership."

NORMAN A. HESSLER

Norman A. Hessler, an incumbent member of the Nameoki Township board, is a candidate for trustee in April. A Granite City Steel employee 21 years, Hessler, 40, is general supervisor of production control in the Hot Rolled Finishing Department.

Born in St. Louis, he has been a Nameoki Township resident for 11 years.

Hessler resides at 2224 Dawn with his wife, Emma, and their sons, Mark, 14, and Rodney, 11.

He attended Lutheran grade and high schools in St. Louis and studied business administration in SIUE night classes.

Formerly Sunday school director for three years at Calvary Baptist Church, he at present is deacon and Calvary youth department Sunday school director.

In the Granite City Steel Management Club, he is a past member of the board of directors.

Hessler has been active in Little League sports and in the Maryville School Parent-Teacher Association.

He comments, "My qualifications include four years' experience on the Town Board and work in purchasing for six years, gaining experience in contracting and competitive bidding."

"While serving on the town board, I have found that the dollars spent, more is accomplished to serve residents at the local level than is accomplished by any other branch of government."

"I have served as chairman of the finance committee and worked on various other township committees, leading to several drainage projects being completed and an environmental clean-up program being initiated."

"I will work to make Nameoki Township a better place in which to live through improving present programs and establishing aid for senior citizens and recreational facilities for youth."

W. LEE ADAMS

W. Lee Adams, 43, of 4546 Highway 162, is seeking reelection as a Nameoki Township trustee April 5.

A chaplain with the Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department and Rescue Squad, of which he has been a member 12 years, Adams has been employed by Granite City Community Unit School District No. Nine for the past 17 years.

He and his wife, Elizabeth, have three children. He attended Cumberland City, Tenn., schools and served for four years with the Army, including three years of overseas duty.

W. L. Adams is a member of Masonic Lodge 477, Eastern Star Granite Chapter 650, Eagles Aerie 1128, Teamsters Local 525, the Illinois Firemen's Association, Tri-City Park Tabernacle and the Madison County Firemen's Association.

He is running on the United for Progress ticket. He has been a resident of the Quad-City area for 29 years.

Discussing his four years on the town board, Adams says, "Meeting and serving the people is a rewarding experience. I want to continue to serve in that capacity."

"Township government is the grassroots of local government. We have to help local taxpayers solve their problems at the township level. Otherwise, in higher government levels there will be much more red tape."

"We could better serve the people in all parts of Nameoki Township by having citizens from all areas on various committees, not just a select few."

"When I was elected four years ago, it was my first time to run for public office. I feel I have experience and knowledge of how our township works, due to serving on special committees."

"At present I am serving on the finance and auditing committee, examining and auditing bills and reports of all town officers and introducing board motions on the findings; town buildings, furnishing and maintenance of all township buildings and acting on purchase requisitions in building repairs and improvements; environmental control, working with the supervisor, highway commission and board of health on improvement of trash collection, street cleaning and mosquito abatement and recommending environmental ordinances."

"Road and bridge, meeting with the highway commissioner on all matters pertaining to the township road department; and animal control committee, working with the board of health on rabies control, impounding of animals and maintenance of rabies control equipment and the impounding area."

ANDY BESSERMAN

Andy Besserman, a candidate for trustee of Nameoki Township, resides at 1915 Rhodes Street with his wife, Irene, and two of their three children, Marilyn and Andy Jr. Their daughter, Linda, is married and she has two children.

He worked for International Shoe Company for 23 years and is now employed at Union Electric Company in Venice as a first auxiliary operator.

He told the Press-Record, "I have always been interested in community affairs and, now that I have found a group of active people that I can work with, I believe we can promote progress for Nameoki Township."

He is running on the Continued Action Party ticket.

HARLAN PERVAN

Harlan "Van" Pervan, 41, of 3425 Fairmont, State Park Place, is a candidate for Nameoki Township trustee on the Continued Action Party. He has lived in the State Park area for three years.

President of the State Park Fire Department, he has held that office for the past two years. He is a lieutenant on the fire department.

Pervan is a member of the Community Development citizens' committee of Nameoki Township.

He is self-employed in the chain link fencing business and a member of Missouri and Illinois organizations.

He has been in the Madison County area for the past eight years.

Pervan was raised in St. Louis County, where he attended school. He and his wife, Jeanne, have six children — seven days' difference in school.

He comments, "I am running on the Continued Action Party ticket because I am a person who likes to get involved in all things that will help the people of our township."

"I am a firm believer that when people work together and face things together, they can eliminate the problems with which they are dealing."

HELEN HAWKINS

Mrs. Helen M. Hawkins is a candidate for Nameoki Township trustee. She resides at 2600 Angela Drive, Nameoki Township, with her husband, Dr. Hubert A. Hawkins, an optometrist, and their two children, Debra and Mark.

She has resided in the township for the past 13 years and she and her husband have been married for 30 years. She was born in Detroit, Mich., and attended Detroit and Chicago schools.

Mrs. Hawkins was elected in 1974 as Democratic committeewoman of Nameoki Precinct Five and was re-elected in 1976. She was elected as secretary-treasurer of the Nameoki Executive Committee and served in the appointed position of township health inspector.

Elected in 1975 as secretary of the former Tri-City Action citizens committee, she is a volunteer Madison County deputy registrar.

For her public service, she was twice awarded a certificate of appreciation, the highest award that township government gives. She is a member of the Women's Division of the Tri-City Area Chamber of Commerce and serves on the Chamber's drainage committee.

A charter member of Granite City Democrats, serving on legislative and planning programs, she also serves on the Nameoki Community Development Committee and is presently a volunteer member of the Nameoki and Pontoon Beach Home Improvement Program.

In 1972, Mrs. Hawkins was appointed by former Republican Governor Richard B. Ogilvie to study possible boundary changes affecting the former East Side Levee and Sanitary District.

In 1974, she was a leader in a movement to "replace the levee district with a more responsive body." A law signed by Democratic Governor Daniel Walker led to formation of a new sanitary district replacing the levee district.

Mrs. Hawkins recalls being active in seeking stormwater and groundwater drainage solutions in "the township, once the river bed of the Mississippi."

While in office as health inspector, she "asked and received 100 per cent cooperation from all the local officials to correct flooding problems in the Harrison Avenue, Benning, Ivy Lane and New Haven Manor (Old Dobrey Slough area) and is presently working with federal, state and local agencies for a solution related to the Parkway Estates project," she relates.

"I am appealing the U.S. flood insurance program in order to cover soil erosion and seepage as a form of flooding."

She is a member of Women of the Moose, Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary and American Legion Auxiliary Unit 115, where she has received certificates of appreciation and recognition for active participation in veterans' activities.

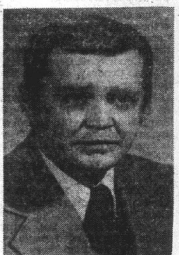

"Known for prompt action solving citizens' problems by working and supporting the ideas of Democrats and Republicans alike, I have shown independence from political bosses."

"I am not, nor will ever be, a rubber stamp official."

"While not a woman liber, I believe other women as well as men respect women who are involved and can get a job done, regardless of any obstacles that may get in the way."

"If elected trustee, other than being a watchdog always willing to cut waste when at hand, I promise to work with the Board of Trustees to promote sound programs for the citizens of Nameoki Township."

Venice Park Board hires worker, election judges

The Venice Park Board approved Friday night the hiring of a full-time employee to assist in groundskeeping at Lee Park, and to hire five judges to oversee the park district's election set for Tuesday, April 5.

An employee will be hired to start April 4 and will work 40 hours per week to help in groundskeeping and maintenance of buildings.

The five judges selected to serve will be paid $25 each for services provided between the hours of 6 a.m. and 6 p.m. on election day.

The board also instructed Attorney Harry Hartman to initiate paperwork for the sale of $15,000 in anticipation warrants to help defray operating expenses until county revenues are received.

Hartman noted that revenues received this year from Madison County should be considerably less than those received last year due to a decrease in assessments.

Approval also was given to a request from the Eagle Park Improvement Association to conduct a fashion show soon in the Venice Recreation Center, 305 Broadway, to raise funds for the association's spring and summer athletic and recreation activities.

Peter Ponce, board president, announced a canvass of the April 5 election ballots will be conducted by the board at its next regular meeting on Friday, April 8.

Metric workshop

A metric "make and take" workshop for elementary teachers who wish to develop their skills in transmitting knowledge about the metric system to children will be held at SIUE Saturday, April 2.

The one-day workshop, sponsored by the SIUE department of elementary education and the Vandalia Metric Laboratory, will be held in Meridian Ballroom of the University Center. Sessions will meet from 8:30 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. A special session will be conducted for educational administrators.

Registration will be $15 per person. This cost will include materials for construction of games and bulletin boards. Deadline for pre-registration is March 21; late registration or door registration will be $20.

"During the past year, many teachers have been introduced to metric measurement. Most of us now want to develop these skills so that we can share our knowledge with our children," Robert Williams, assistant professor of elementary education, said.

Participants will work with pre-cut wood and paper games, bulletin board ideas and other projects. A group of metric specialists will be available to offer suggestions for construction and development of the metric materials.

Paul Walther, assistant supervisor of Vandalia public schools, will hold a special mini-session for administrative leadership. The administrative session will focus on alternative methods of introducing metrics into an existing curriculum.

Seek eye donor pledges

"The greatest gift of all is yours to give," is the theme of National Eye Bank Month, a March-long campaign conducted by the Illinois Eye Bank and 61 other eye banks across the country to acquaint Americans with the continual need for eye donor tissue.

Edgar T. Britton, executive director of the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness, told the Press-Record thousands of persons in the nation with damaged or cloudy corneas, including hundreds of Illinois citizens, continue to wait in darkness for "that one gesture of compassion by an eye donor that could bring them the miracle of sight."

National Eye Bank Month is conducted each year to acquaint people with organ donor programs and to encourage their participation as donors.

Since 1947, the Illinois Eye Bank, founded and supported by the Illinois Society and operated at the University of Illinois Eye and Ear Infirmary in Chicago, has helped to provide, preserve or improve the sight of nearly 3,500 individuals with damaged or defective corneas. Unfortunately, says Britton, there is not enough donor tissue to meet the need.

The most significant development in recent months that could help alleviate some of the shortage, he says, was an amendment to the Illinois Vehicle Code passed by the state legislature and supported jointly by the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness and the Kidney Foundation of Illinois.

Now, because of the amendment, Illinois drivers willing to donate their eyes, kidneys and other organs of the body can express their wishes by placing an "organ donor" sticker on their driver's license, and by filling out and carrying a wallet-size uniform organ donor card.

Many people, says Britton, would like to donate, but vague fears and misunderstandings about the process keep them from doing so. Here are his answers to the questions most often asked by potential donors.

"Anyone, 18 or over, may donate his eyes. You are never too old.

"No prior eye examination is needed.

"Eyes if your vision is poor, your eyes are usable.

"Eyes which have been operated for cataracts are still valuable to the Eye Bank.

"Removal of the eyes causes no noticeable change in the appearance of the deceased.

"Eyes are never bought or sold. They are freely given and are processed without cost to the patient."

For additional information about Eye Bank Month or the eye donor program, Quad-Cityans may write to the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness, 53 W. Jackson Blvd., Chicago, Ill. 60604.

Seven beginning art students at Coolidge Junior High School who also are members of the Braves wrestling team have designed and created a six-foot-tall, three-dimensional masonite plaque of the popular comic strip character, "The Hulk."

The "Hulk" has been adopted as the Braves' wrestling mascot and wears the school's wrestling uniform in the traditional red and white school colors.

The idea of the "Hulk" as a mascot came about when Miss Polson and her students decided to promote more school spirit among students and teachers, and at the same time praise Coolidge's wrestling season for 1976-77, in which only one meet was lost.

The "Hulk" was dedicated by the entire wrestling team to Larry Carl, the Braves' wrestling coach, and it has been hung on the wall of the wrestling room.

Large red and black masonite letters which read "Coolidge Braves" were made by the art students.

Special district law revision could harm sewer planning

State Representative Jim McPike is about to do a serious disservice to the Quad-City area by trying to tinker with the special district law.

The Alton legislator this week voiced philosophical differences with the backdoor referendum provision of the special district law, the vehicle through which it is hoped to install badly-needed sanitary sewers in Madison County Special Service Area One, primarily Chouteau and Nameoki Townships.

Aside from the merit or lack of merit of his theoretical viewpoint, which rests on somewhat shaky ground itself, his action by its timing cannot help but be destructive in nature. If it succeeds, the legislation will do great harm to the delicately-structured sewer package, already upheld in the courts, but delayed by a time-consuming appeal.

Rep. McPike says the proposed law change would not be retroactive and thus would have no effect on the local sewer hopes. He cannot know this, because the exact timetable of the sewer project is unknown.

The future of the sewer program, in fact, is in considerable jeopardy. Many of next month's Nameoki and Chouteau candidates opposed the sewer financing arrangements and are still talking about finding "fairer" or "non-tax" approaches even though the existing plan is a big bargain compared to any other possibility.

If they prevail, the program could be thwarted through lack of support by the very officials who otherwise would be expected to lead it and administer it. Certainly, all April 5 candidates for key Chouteau and Nameoki Township posts owe it to the public to make it clear immediately whether they would — once in office — aid or block the sewers.

In addition to the election impact, current court deliberations pose the problems of an almost endless passage of time, proceeding at a snail's pace even though the delay is eroding daily local government's ability to hold the project together.

Farsighted attitudes and activity by the sewer committee and the state government have led to the $3-for-$1 construction grant being extended through the end of the calendar year. However, the on-target installation bids cannot be kept frozen indefinitely, and a new round of bidding might result in costs exceeding the available funds.

As noted, there are more than enough complications without a legislator running roughshod over an essential progressive step while trying to alter the Illinois statute book to conform with his "I don't believe in..." pronouncements.

Particularly in view of the identity of some of those invited to testify — highly active sewer protagonists — it is impossible to separate this spring's legislative activity from the effort to thwart sewer installation.

Juvenile crime in Illinois bears a double responsibility

Press-Record Springfield Bureau — The increase in juvenile crime, especially vandalism, has spurred renewed interest in trying to legislate an answer to the problem. The Illinois House of Representatives passed and sent to the Senate H.B. 206 which proposes to increase the amount of parents' liability for vandalism committed by their children from $500 to $1,000.

Legislation also has been introduced that would permit a state's attorney to sue a parent or guardian for payment of the cost and restitution of damage if the juvenile offender does not pay.

This is one approach being taken: place the responsibility fully on the parents.

As the sponsor of one bill said, "My hope, in seeking an increase in parental liability, is that innocent victims of vandalism will be better able to be fully compensated for their losses and parents will be inspired to control their children."

Yet, there is a second side to the issue. There are those who want greater responsibility placed on the juvenile, who is often beyond the control of the parent by the time he is 15 or 16 years old.

The city of Chicago has under consideration an ordinance that would not make parents financially responsible for damage caused by their children. Anyone convicted of vandalism could be fined up to $300 for a first offense and up to $500 for a second offense. Anyone convicted of vandalism twice or more in a 180-day period could be jailed for up to six months.

Vandals could be required to work off their fines in federally-financed city jobs if they could not pay immediately. Judges also would have the option of requiring convicted vandals to pay the cost of repairing the damage.

A proposal in the state legislature would lower the age of juvenile delinquency from 17 to 14 years of age, thereby lessening liability of parents and making the youngster responsible for his own conduct.

Which of these approaches is most feasible? Which will succeed? No one really knows. Obviously, it is difficult to legislate parental responsibility. We are extremely skeptical of the proposal and restitution of damage if the juvenile offender does not pay.

The court dockets are overflowing now. Such a proposal would add to the problem without any guarantee of success.

Shifting the responsibility of all responsibility? We doubt it. After all, their neglect for the welfare of their children at an early age was most likely part of the cause of the child's criminal activity later.

Yet, it seems the juvenile should share in responsibility for the crime. Only in that way will the youngster have qualms about engaging in an illegal activity a second time.

There are no cut-and-dried answers to the problem of juvenile delinquency, as any law enforcement official can confirm. It is encouraging, however, that legislative officials are expressing such concern.

Perhaps somewhere in the variety of proposals a middle-road can be found to deal with this problem. Whatever emerges from the General Assembly should not ignore the dual responsibility of both the juvenile and the parent. That basic agreement could lead to an improved approach to controlling juvenile crime.

Steel industry is not lacking in problems

Post Dispatch comment — Perhaps more than any other major industry, the steel industry in this country is beset by forces it doesn't fully control — Look at the list:

Subsidized foreign producers last year coped 14 per cent of the U.S. steel business.

The Carter administration already has limited one steel price hike and wants to establish a program of price regulation on wage and price increases that it can negotiate voluntary reductions if it considers them too big.

The steel industry also has lost control over its labor costs. The four-year old Experimental Negotiating Agreement between major companies and the United Steelworkers requires that any unresolved differences in a contract being negotiated be settled by binding arbitration.

The ENA guarantees USW members three per cent wage increases this year and in each of the next two years.

In addition, to replace the current contract which expires July 31, the USW is seeking guaranteed lifetime security for its members, a 32-hour week and 40 hours of pay and other improvements.

"How did the steel industry get into this exposed position to control much of its destiny?"

For years, the industry has been a favorite "whipping boy" for politicians and unions. It's big, employing more than 500,000 persons, and a producer of a basic material used in many products.

Furthermore, for many years, its labor relations were bad, making it an easy target for any criticism.

In the 1960s, prices of steel were limited by governmental guidelines that badly impaired the industry's profits.

That, in turn, limited the ability of steel companies to expand capacity and improve productivity by investing in modern plant and equipment.

With old plants, the U.S. steel industry was in poor condition to compete with foreign steel producers, who had modern plants built in the postwar period and whose exports were subsidized by their governments.

Steel imports rose to 18,300,000 tons, or 17.9 per cent of the total supply, in 1971 before foreign producers agreed to limit their shipments to this country.

Foreign producers also were able to gain a large share of the U.S. market because steel users built up inventories prior to each USW contract expiration as a hedge against the possibility of a strike.

With demand outrunning domestic capacity during such periods, foreign producers were able to obtain premiums on immediate shipments and long-term commitments from American buyers to purchase foreign steel.

To stop strike-hedge buying of steel from foreigners, the U.S. industry and the USW in 1973 agreed to settle all binding contract issues by unbinding arbitration.

Although companies gave up lockouts and the union gave up strikes, both gained. More business meant more employment.

But, with subsidized prices, foreign steel producers are still able to beat U.S. companies. Last year, steel imports amounted to 14,300,000 tons, or 14 per cent of the total supply.

So the U.S. industry is seeking restraints, claiming foreign producers are dumping steel, and urging a long-term solution through multilateral discussions under the auspices of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

The Japanese have recently begun discussing voluntary limits to their steel exports following Vice President Mondale's comment to them during his visit that the issue was not to be treated lightly.

The Administration may be helping the steel industry with one hand, but it is hurting it with another.

Charles Schultz, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, in January was able to talk Edgar Speer, chairman of U.S. Steel Corp., into a smaller-than-planned price hike on tin mill products.

Although the public benefits in the short run from a limitation of the price hike, it will suffer in the long run.

With smaller profits, the industry will not be able to make as many investments in new plant and equipment that would improve productivity and reduce the need for price increases.

And the industry badly needs higher profits.

Last year, earnings of the top seven companies declined 14 per cent, while those of all corporations increased about 28 per cent.

In 1975, steel profits sank 32 per cent, nearly three times faster than the 11 per cent drop for all manufacturing.

As a result of the industry's problems, its earnings have been far below the average for all manufacturing.

From 1960 to 1973, steel earnings were only 7.3 per cent of stockholders' equity, compared with 11 per cent for all manufacturing.

In 1974, for the first time since 1957, steel profitability was above average — 16.7 per cent of stockholders' equity, as against 14.9 per cent for all manufacturing.

But in 1975, the old pattern returned — steel earnings amounted to 10.3 per cent of all manufacturing. And the gap widened last year.

Clearly, the steel industry needs a fairer shake from the government and a better understanding of its limits by the USW.

Chouteau clerk able, hard-working

To the Editor: For the past four years, Pat Polley has served effectively and efficiently as town clerk for Chouteau Township.

She has been conscientious in her efforts to serve this area capably and honestly. Since her election to this position, she has spent many long hours and devoted all her energy to this time-consuming job, and has gone far beyond the duty required of the town clerk.

She has done an excellent job and made an outstanding contribution to this township. Mrs. Polley's knowledge of local, county and state government has helped to bring thousands of dollars in additional funds to this area. She has the expertise necessary to serve the citizens of Chouteau Township most effectively.

The dedication and efforts of Patricia Polley should be rewarded by re-election to the position of town clerk in the April 5 election.

Homes found for 74 of 75 animals

To the Editor: One year ago the Association for the Protection of Animals was told to move from its shelter on the Granite City Army base.

At the time, we had 75 animals to find homes for. Our year was up March 10 and remarkable as it seems, we did find homes for 74 of those animals.

One was 13 years old. One was so mean we never thought anyone would put up with her. She was taken into a home and it has changed her completely. She is making someone a wonderful pet, all because someone gave her a chance.

We have found there are a lot of people in Granite City with big hearts and we appreciate it. But we have one cat left.

Rags is a five-year-old, black, gray and cream. She doesn't like other animals but loves people.

She doesn't have any bad habits, and is quiet and very loving. If you would like a lap cat, past the kitten age where they get into things, she is it. She is also good with children.

She has been at our shelter for two years and we all love her very much, but our houses are full.

Isn't someone please give her a chance to live out her life in a home with people to love her, to play with, to give you back every day with all the love she has.

Record of progress by government

To the Editor: I heard a guy say that the only reason we have a Party now is because of the surplus signs and bumper stickers left over from previous campaigns. Some huge ones are still visible on the streets.

My problem now, though, is trying to tell which Party is the candidate?

Is it the sheet metal Party? Or the mortuary Party? Perhaps the County Board Party? Could it be a combination of all three?

You sure can't tell by these signs and stickers.

If it's the "combination" Party, are all these extra iron in the fire going to be divested if elected? What about possible conflicts of interest, of time, and of personal involvement?

There are too many unanswered items. That's why I'm voting for Paul Schuler. The record of progress is there for all to see.

Supervisor experienced, full-time

To the Editor: The letter from my opponent for supervisor of Nameoki Township (March 3, "Schools promised me unity as well as they have promised him.")

Therefore, his promise of unity could be a false promise. Our constituents cannot afford to take a chance on again.

My "Continued Action Party" not only promises unity, but we promise action, hard work and service with citizen involvement.

The supervisor of a township has only one vote on any issue and cannot control or rule the township, as indicated by my opponents.

The highway commissioner supervises the Road District. The clerk, assessor, and collector supervise their respective offices. And the township has control over its own office staff only.

The important issues of this campaign are being clouded by the facts and distortions of the office staff only.

My opponent will not deny promised me unity as well as they have promised him.

that I have been a good supervisor. He will not be able to devote full-time to the job as I do.

He is lacking in his experience of government. His backers and campaign managers are in opposition to our sewer programs that are the key to progress of Nameoki Township.

My wife and I have also prayed many times for guidance on very important decisions, such as the time we appointed Mr. Davis to the Fire District and got his wife a job when he was injured, and then to have them run against us.

Everyone has the right to run for office, but let us be honest about our motives and intentions, because we are elected it is a big, full-time job to fulfill.

State avoids true cost reimbursement

To the Editor: Attached is a copy of a news release from the County Nursing Home Association of the State of Illinois.

This news release is prepared because it appears that the Department of Public Aid has always sought to receive the level of care and service paid for by the State of Illinois. The Commission concluded that the Department of Public Aid failed miserably in the accomplishments of these objectives.

We would appreciate any coverage you might lend to this news release on honest effort on the part of the state to meet the needs of medically-indigent citizens, we will fail in our efforts.

Unless people can understand this problem of inadequate reimbursement, as well as the need for a honest effort on the part of the state to meet the needs of medically-indigent citizens, we will fail in our efforts.

The County Nursing Home Association's statement follows — Within the past few weeks a report was released by the Illinois Legislative Commission regarding the long-term care industry in Lake County.

This report breaks down its findings in Lake County by facilities and also includes findings and summarizes thoughts formulated by the County Nursing Home Association of the State of Illinois.

It has tried to work toward obtaining a fair cost reimbursement program from the state so that quality care can be delivered without creating a quality care crisis by facilities looking at the possibility of having to close their doors for lack of funds.

Our membership felt that an honest effort to meet the federal mandate for cost reimbursement was being made by Public Aid, but now we ask — Is Public Aid failing miserably in accomplishing this goal as the Commission's report indicated was their normal practice?

We received copy of a "confidential" memo from another state association dated 3-28-77 which says and we quote —

"Another meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, March 2, at which time final decisions are expected as to item-by-item reporting requirements, with a view toward the absolute minimum which those departments need to achieve their legislative mandate while accommodating to IAH's concerns."

Federal law mandates cost reimbursement by Jan. 1, 1978. The state pledged its efforts to develop and implement this program so the delivery of quality care can continue to excel.

Has the state decided to forget the patients' needs and fail again to follow through on a true cost reimbursement program?

Do the patients' needs really count?

Are we really interested in providing quality care?

Budget omits state employees' needs

To the Editor: Governor Thompson's proposed 1977-78 budget omits an extra tax on state employees by denying them pay increases to keep pace with the cost of living.

The state imposes on people to pay for its operations. When most state employees are told they won't receive any pay increases for the second straight year, they are being asked to subsidize state government by taking a cut in their real incomes.

We will push vigorously for pay increases. We are bargaining the first union contracts ever for clerical, professional and paraprofessional employees, and negotiating a wage reopener for state blue-collar workers covered under present contracts.

Clerical, professional and paraprofessional employees haven't had a pay raise since 1974. The cost of living has risen by 14 per cent since then.

State workers are people, like teachers, and can't afford to pay 1977 prices with 1974 paychecks.

The budget reasonably enough provides for increases in payments to contractors and vendors, to take into account higher costs resulting from inflation.

It's unrealistic to assume that, while the state's fuel bills are increasing, employees' living costs aren't.

Employees have their budget crises, too, and they earn less than the U.S. Labor Department's "modest" family budget.

The governor should impose sacrifice on those who can afford it, and not on the poor. For example, there have been excessive payments to certain private nursing homes, doctors and DRUGS.

Candidate holds responsible position

To the Editor: Merris Miles, an employee of this company, is seeking election as supervisor of Chouteau Township. He does so with our complete concurrence.

As a matter of fact, it has been a long-term policy of this company to encourage its employees to take a more active role in government at any level and in any position — as long as it does not seriously interfere with company duties. In this case, it would not.

Mr. Miles holds a very responsible position in the management of this company. His performance has been outstanding.

He has demonstrated an understanding of and ability to use sound business principles. It would seem that such understanding and ability would be of great service to the office he seeks.

Says party opposes special taxes

To the Editor: A lot of people of Mitchell and South Roxana have been asking just what the Chouteau Citizens Party stands for, so I thought I would write the seven bylaws they stand for.

(1) This party pledges to work to defeat any special taxes that are not in the interest of its residents.

(2) We are opposed to "backdoor" referendums that assume all votes to be "yes" until a petition is signed in objection. We believe all referendums should be voted on at the polls.

(3) If elected, we will not budget for a township tax collector. We will turn tax collections over to the county treasurer, so other counties in Illinois and other townships in Madison County have done.

This could result in savings of approximately $40,000 to Chouteau citizens over a four-year period.

(4) We pledge to work toward a solution to the drainage and groundwater problems within our area.

(5) We pledge to work harmoniously and cooperatively with all other units within the local government to provide better services for all township citizens.

(6) We pledge to make every effort to contract the citizens of the community concerning all major township issues through a newsletter to be published quarterly.

(7) We pledge to assist senior citizens and youth groups with state and federal funding that is available to the township.

I hope that after the people read this letter they will see that this party does have the people at heart and is ready to make township a better place to raise their children.

Assertive Training topic of Alpha Eta

Miss Lucinda Brawn, Coordinator of Human Renewal Services at Lewis and Clark Community College in Godfrey, was the featured speaker at a breakfast meeting of Alpha Eta Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society, held at the YWCA in Alton.

Rowena Lutz, chairman of the Professional Affairs Committee, introduced the guest speaker who selected "Commitment and Assertion" as her topic.

Miss Brawn discussed "assertive training," and area in which she has specialized for a number of years. In her programs, she stresses a type of behavior modification which she sees as an outgrowth of the women's movement. She recommended four outstanding books on the subject for further information and concluded by listing "rights" everyone has as she sees it.

Chapter President Mrs. Martha Moomaw presided at the business session and accepted reports of officers and committee chairmen.

Other chapter projects discussed during the meeting included the collection of eyeglasses, frames and lenses which were donated by members, for the "New Eyes for the Needy" program with Dorothy Mitchell of Granite City serving as chairman.

Members gave paperback books to Leigh Heller of Granite City for collection. Receipts will go to the Delta Kappa Gamma Golden Gift fund, it was noted. Election Chairman Elizabeth Briggs of Granite City, reported on the status of bills pertaining to education in the Illinois General Assembly. Some of them are of a threatening nature to teachers and their jobs, she said.

Preferential balloting on candidates for membership was conducted by Dorothy Aberley, membership chairman. She announced four new members will be admitted to the organization.

Lucille Stevenson reviewed plans for a musical melodrama to be presented by members of this area at the Lambda State convention set for March 23, 26 and 27 at Stouffer's Riverfront Inn, St. Louis. Included in the discussion was a report by Dorothy Rainey on an exhibit of publicity articles she will display at the convention.

The past president's topic, "The Delta Kappa Gamma Educational Foundation" was explained by Florence Dinwitty.

Hostesses for the meeting were Jane Henry and Alberta Braden. Those from Granite City who attended included Louise Dexheimer, Mary Friday, Agnes Fryntek, Lucka Huck, Elsie Mayhew, Selma Nelson, Lucy Parrish, Mary Turner, Ann Johnson, Linda Rock, Cynthia Hornell, Pat Moore, and those named above.

58'ers to attend workshops

The 58'ers 4-H Club met last week at St. John's United Church of Christ with 19 members answering roll call with the name of their favorite rock group. Sue Basarich, vice president presided and Shannon Bushue led the American pledge and Ellen Ranged led the 4-H pledge. Happy Birthday was sung to Shannon Bushue and Laura Christ was introduced as a guest.

During the business session announcements were made with two important workshops discussed today at the Farm Bureau in Edwardsville all members enrolled in a foods project are to attend the food demonstration workshop and March 31 at the same location there will be a workshop for members enrolled in indoor gardening. Members are to contact Mrs. Joanna Spencer, leader, if they will be attending so transportation can be arranged for the two trips.

A junior leader meeting to plan the April session will be held at Mrs. Spencer's home on Friday, March 25 at 1 p.m. Kelly Ault and Ellen Ranged will announce fine plans for the club tree planting and park clean-up to be held on April 16 as a community service project.

Talks on projects were given by Nita Graham "How to prepare a Bibliography"; Mary Ruth on "Needlepoint"; and Lisa Griffey on "The Care of Prints and Negatives."

Demonstrations were given by Gloria Milianis "Staining Ceramic Greenware"; Lisa Scannell, "Care of Your Ice Skates"; Nancy Dimitroff "Brownies"; Dina Long "Meat Loaf," and Gina Graham "Corn Bread."

Recreation was conducted by Cindy Buente and Patty Basarich and St. Patrick's Day decorated cake hats were awarded as prizes. Refreshments of Brownies and soft drink was served by Laura and Michelle Jensen.

Members who attended were: Kelly Ault, Lisa Griffey, Dina Long, Janine Modica, Loretta Paschadeg, Ellen Ranged, Karen Spencer, Mrs. Anita Graham and Mrs. Joanna Spencer, leader, and those mentioned.

150 at Career Awareness Night

About 150 parents and students attended "Career Awareness Night" at Granite City High School North, sponsored by the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club as part of the club's service to youth program.

North Principal Gilbert Walmesley reviewed the career awareness series of programs, conducted at the school last month to enable students gain a better insight into future job prospects and available training in different fields.

Mrs. Delores Hordesky, a teacher, addressed the assembly on "The Importance of Career Awareness."

She pointed out, "Too often a student enters college with no real career goal in mind." After much money is expended and years have gone by, a student may find the career he selected earlier may not be suited to his talents or temperament, the teacher stated.

Mrs. Carolyn L. Koester, BFW Career Awareness Project chairman, commented, "Hopefully, after talking with the occupational representatives here tonight, a student will have a greater knowledge of details very important in choosing, procuring and enjoying an occupation suited to the individual."

Organizers of the program were interested to note that among the 29 occupations represented, six areas were selected most frequently. The occupation areas were tool and die making, computer programming, secretarial, artistry, social work and teaching.

Students and parents were afforded the opportunity to interview three occupational representatives of their choice. Each person taking part in the program was trained and is currently working in his specific field, Mrs. Koester noted.

Whether a student is planning to continue his or her education in college or vocational school, or decides to work immediately upon graduating from high school, there was someone at "Career Awareness Night" to help them, the Business Women's chairman said.

Among the representatives and occupations participating were: Ron Cornwell, agriculture; Roger Kadell, anesthetist; DeLaine Lange, artist; Frank Clark, chemist; Catherine Monroe, computer programming and data processing; G. H. Sternberg, construction; Betty Smith, cosmetologist.

Irene Votupal, day care; Dr. Larry Rapp, dentist; Dave Morrison, electronics (hospital); Rudy Votupal, engineering; Deborah Jolly, teaching of handicapped; Rod Minner, hospitality; Laura Nollman, instrumental music; Wanda McDowell, lab technician; Granite City Police Lieutenant Joseph Nemeth, law enforcement; Earl Buenger, mechanic; Staff Sergeant Michael Kimberlin, U.S. Air Force and Staff Sergeant L. E. Baker, U.S. Army, military.

Fai Johnson, nursing; Jeff Jarvis, recreational park management; Dorothy Luckert, secretarial; Dave Partney, sheet metal worker; Connie Piechoncinski, social worker; Delores Hordesky, teaching; Ruth Spargue, veterinarian; Charlie Hawkins, tool and die, machinist and drafting; and Mary Ann Bright, vocal music teacher.

Students from both Granite City high schools took part in the project.

Procedures topic of Chamber group

The Women's Division of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce met at the Top of the Barrel Restaurant and viewed a skit on the wrong way to conduct a meeting.

Taking part in the presentation were Mesdames Mary Sedekum, Jeannette Scannell, Billie Schuler, Kay Pomeroi, Tina Thomas, Barbara Duffin and Mary Jesse.

Mrs. Birdine Crowling then spoke on "Parliamentary Procedure" and the correct way to conduct a meeting.

Mrs. Billie Schuler, president, conducted a business meeting. Those interested in buying a flowering crabapple tree may contact the Chamber office, it was announced.

Also attending the meeting were Mesdames Shirley Adams, Nita Cline, Jane Eli, Marilyn Lunsford, Ann Pieper, Delores Klesh, Genia Robertson, Norma Schroeder, Pauline Seebold, Valerie Stevens, Bonnie Sullivan, Lois Winter, Dorothy Young, Ruth Brown, Helen Gieselmann, Verna Reubenhauer and Mary Scarsdale.

The April meeting is to be a dinner-dance honoring past presidents of the Chamber of Commerce and the Women's Division. It will be held at Sunset Hills Country Club on April 23.

Collinsville Club to host District V annual meeting

Collinsville Garden Club will be the host club for the annual meeting of District V Garden Club of Illinois, Inc. which will be held March 24 at First United Methodist Church in Collinsville, according to Mrs. Dennis Haislar, president of the Collinsville Club. Mrs. Finis English is chairman of District V.

Fred Gartung from Springfield Memorial Gardens will be the speaker for the program. Exhibits to be judged will include the members' most outstanding horticulture; two artistic arrangements for the different clubs to enter, "A Burst of Spring," an arrangement using forced branches along with any other fresh plant material; "Farewell Winter — Hello Spring," a creative design.

Three offices will be filled — recording secretary, treasurer and historian, the president said.

The board of directors meeting will be held today at Fischer's Restaurant, Belleville. The organization meeting will be held at Fischers on March 21.

A one day bus trip has been planned for March 29 for the Garden Club of Illinois flower show being held in Chicago.

District V will also be well represented at the State Annual Convention in Chicago in April. This is the 50th anniversary of the Garden Club of Illinois and there will be an extra day for this celebration, which will include a buffet supper.

Lutheran Youth attend

Eleven young people and counselors from Hope Lutheran Church were among the 1,500 persons at the 62nd Lutheran Youth Congress held in Chicago.

The congress, planned with an emphasis on growth in Christian life, was based on the theme, "Different — Yet One in Christ."

Attending from Hope Lutheran were Jeff Blasingame, Joe Smith, Lisa Sarich, Alice Hoffman, Kellie James, Laurie Webb, Bonnie Luebbert, Norman Frech, Toby Tobias, a field worker and Alan and Carolyn Koester, counselors.

Thousands of youth and adults have attended similar congresses across the United States since the program was initiated in December 1966 in Minneapolis, Minn.

Assemblies and elective sessions were held for the young people, their counselors and pastors during the three-day congress.

Sessions focused on Charismatic Christianity; Family Communication; Having a Family Where Everyone Wins; Music as Worship; Single Living; Dating Outside My Faith; Basic Counseling; Large Group Recreation; Family Communication; and Death and Dying.

Among the vocal and instrumental groups performing at the congress was Hosanna, a seven-member ensemble, which will appear Sunday, July 24 at Hope Lutheran Church, 3715 Washburn Ave.

Over-flow crowd at benefit sing

An over-flow crowd of more than 175 persons attended the "Benefit Sing" during the weekend at the New Life Singing Center, East 25th and August streets.

The event observed the first anniversary of the non-denominational center, where gospel singing programs are presented at 7:30 p.m. on the second and fourth Saturday of each month.

No charge is made to attend the concerts and the public is invited, according to Norman Fenton, center director.

Acts stood around the walls and some with children were seated upon blankets on the floor at the anniversary concert, Fenton said. "It was a very happy and successful evening," the director commented.

The Reynolds Family of Florissant, Mo., one of five groups performing during the weekend, will return to sing here on Saturday, March 26, it was announced.

The other groups appearing at the benefit sing were: The Harvesters of St. Louis; The Beacon Lights from Granite City; The Unbroken Circle; and The Berry Singers of Fredericktown, Mo.

The New Life Singing Center began operations in March 1976.

More the Merrier enrolls five

John Winkmeier, president, introduced new members including Vernice Spuicer, Barbara Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Thiele and Tom Crowley. Birthday members introduced were Mildred Johnson, Charlotte Smith, Aline McFeeters and Juanita Towery. The president announced the new building to house the senior citizen center is expected to be ready in October.

The next meeting at 2 p.m. on March 24 and will be a fried chicken dinner to be catered by Petri's Restaurant, it was noted.

Those winning prizes were Grace Padlock, Martin Schulte, Ada Rockeller, Betty Cooper and Pauline Cox. Also attending were Della Robb, Mae Findley, Orto

Aerne, Edna Wheat, Jessie Chase, Villa Richards, Talmadge Towery, Rose Gocheff, Helen Newland, Filomena Gruber, Lena Wood, Carrie Spaich, Gertrude Bundy, Elva Laillement.

Esther Paterson, Verna Spurrer, Helen Kachigian, Loretta Wapchoil, Leola Sedebres, Marie Toth, Mildred Johnson, Roy Like, Florence Asbal, Joan Stanton, LaVerne Cathey, Betty Cooper, Tom and Juanita Crowley, Neva Wertz and guests Beulah Becker and Bessie Milton.

Proverbs 3:27... "Withhold not good from them to whom it is due, when it is in the power of thine hand to do it."

The Bible teaches us that it is more blessed to give than to receive. We are also taught that with the same measure that we give we shall likewise receive.

There are frequent times when it is in our power to give good things to others. To those who sorrow, it is a word of comfort. To the hungry, it is food. To the despondent, it is a word of encouragement. It does not cost us a great deal of money to give good things.

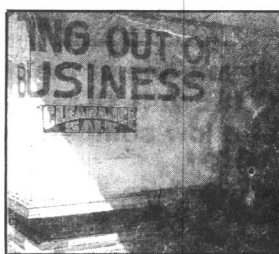

We may well remember that as we give we also receive. Will you do something good for another today?

ARMY RECRUITER. Staff Sergeant John E. Keene, right, of Granite City receives the recruiting gold badge award from Midwest Region recruiting commander, Colonel Leo Comish, of Fort Sheridan, Ill. Sgt. Keene, who has been assigned to the Granite City Army recruiting station for the past four years, received the award for his outstanding record as an Army recruiter. The award is based on numbers of persons enlisted for the Army, as well as the high caliber of enlistees he has obtained. Keene is the third recruiter in the St. Louis District to receive this recognition. Quad-Cityans needing information about the Army may contact Keene at the recruiting station, 1206 Niedringhaus Ave., or by telephone at 876-5950.

PRODUCTION IS IN FULL SWING on Thursday evenings at the Junior Achievement Business Center, 3307 Wabash Ave. The WoodCo JA company takes over part of the building that night and produces trouble lights selling for $2.50 and planters

New plan for review of water resource projects

Secretary of the Army Clifford L. Alexander has outlined to members of Congress plans for a review of Corps of Engineers water resource projects. The review was directed by President Carter on Feb. 21.

In a letter to the chairmen of the Senate and House Appropriations and Public Works Committees last week, Secretary Alexander said, "The purpose of the review is to carry out a complete evaluation of the 19 projects listed in the President's Feb. 21 message to Congress — and of all other water resource projects — and to develop comprehensive policy reforms." Eleven of the 19 are Corps projects.

The 11 Corps projects withdrawn from the budget by the President and all those remaining in the 1977-78 fiscal year construction budget request will be evaluated. An initial screening will be conducted to identify all projects that will require detailed evaluation.

The following criteria will be used for initial screening to determine which projects do or do not require more detailed evaluation:

1. No additional major adverse environmental impacts would result from project completion.

2. Ratio of remaining direct costs exceeds unity when discounted at a rate of 6% per cent.

3. No credible question remains to be resolved concerning the safety of project structures.

"Projects satisfying all of these criteria will be exempted from further evaluation," Secretary Alexander told the committees.

The screening and evaluation task force for Corps projects will include representation from the Council on Environmental Quality, the Office of Management and Budget and at least one other federal water resource construction agency, in addition to Army representatives.

This task force will accomplish the initial screening, compilation of data and subsequent evaluation of projects in a period of two weeks. The chief of Engineers intends to complete the initial screening and to announce projects requiring further evaluation early next week.

"Beginning on Saturday, March 26, public meetings will be held on projects for which a change in status may be recommended," Alexander said. "These meetings will be held in the areas of the projects, including the 11 projects for which the President recommended deletion of funding."

"Public meetings will be conducted prior to March 31 to insure that a summary of public input is available for consideration in preparation of the Army secretary's report on the review."

"These public meetings will be conducted by the responsible division or district engineer. Details of these meetings will be announced at least five days prior to the meeting date."
